Attack Follows Buddhist Protest Funeral March; Troops Guard Structures

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Screaming students set fire to the U.S. Information Service building in the rebellious northern city of Hue today. The mob attacked the modern, two-story building after Buddhist leaders at a protest funeral march by thousands assailed the United States for supporting Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's military regime. The U.S.I.S. building was closed and no Americans were injured.

War Front
On the war front, ground action was reported at a near standstill and U.S. B52 bombers led the offensive with attacks on four Viet Cong areas. The war scene was dominated by the report of casualties last week, which said the number of allied battle dead more than doubled and the number of U.S. casualties—146 killed and 820 wounded—was the highest for any week of the war. The previous casualty high—240 killed and 470 wounded—came last November during the fighting in the Ia Drang Valley.

A military spokesman said the high toll was the result of the numerous battalion size actions during the week rather than any one major engagement.

Allied Deaths
The allied dead totaled 386 last week, compared with 161 the week before. Spokesmen reported 1,235 Communists killed, a rise of 25 per cent over the 998 the week before.

In Hue, smoke belched from the U.S.I.S. building as the flames consumed books, bookshelves and library tables. About 200 students attacked.

Black May Ask Court To Dismiss Tax Count in Light of Eavesdropping
WASHINGTON (AP) — The attorney for public relations man Fred B. Black Jr., says he may ask the Supreme Court today to dismiss outright income tax charges against his client in light of the Justice Department's admission it "bugged" talks between the two.

Hans A. Nathan, the attorney, said he would ask the court to go beyond the suggestion made Tuesday by Solicitor General Thurgood Marshall.

Marshall, in an extraordinary memorandum telling of the electronic eavesdropping, said Black is entitled to a court hearing. He added, however, the department is convinced the 1963 snooping by Federal Bureau of Investigation agents had nothing to do with Black's eventual indictment by the Internal Revenue Service and conviction on the tax charges.

Date Mistake
"I think maybe there was a mistake in the date," he said. The turncoats still in China are Howard Adams, no relation to Clarence, of Corsicana, Tex., and James Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif. One of the former war prisoners who chose to remain with their captors died in China, two left via Europe and 15 others preceded Adams across the Hong Kong border. The last was Morris Wills of Fort Ann, N.Y., who crossed last Oct. 19.

Adams said he did not know whether Howard Adams and Veneris were planning to leave China.

Little Contact
"I have been working at the foreign language press," he said. "They are studying at Peking University, and I've had very little contact with them for many months."

Adams said he and his family would fly to the United States "just as soon as our travel documents are ready and my mother sends us the travel money which she wrote she would send as soon as we reached Hong Kong."

A U.S. consulate spokesman said issuance of travel documents for the family could take from one to three weeks.

While Adams talked to Platt, Mrs. Adams, the former Liu Lin-fang, told newsmen in Chinese they had decided to leave China because Adams wanted to see his mother, Mrs. Gladys Peoples of Memphis.

"He has not seen his mother since before he went to war 16 years ago," Mrs. Adams said.

Cut by War, Cost of Living

Polls Show LBJ Popularity Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keenly aware that the high cost of living and the Viet Nam war are cutting into his administration's popularity as measured by public opinion polls. In reaction to the polls and other signs, the administration has made several moves to try to show that the rise in living costs has been much lower than in other industrialized nations and that there are grounds for hope that civil strife in South Viet Nam can be composed and a degree of unity attained.

After his latest survey this week, pollster Louis Harris said that the American public's rating of the way Johnson does his job has fallen to the lowest point of his 2½ years in the White House.

Only 55 per cent now think he is doing an excellent or good job, Harris reported. This is a decline of 7 percentage points from two months ago and 12 points from January.

But Johnson's rating in this poll is still above the low points of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

And a Gallup Poll released Wednesday night reported that a test for the presidency between Johnson and Republican Richard M. Nixon would be closer now than eight months ago.

The poll said 54 per cent of those queried replied they would like to see Johnson win

if the election was held today, while 36 per cent picked Nixon and 10 per cent were undecided. Last September, a similar poll listed Johnson with 61 per cent, Nixon with 35 per cent and had 4 per cent undecided. No other candidates were listed in these polls.

Another Poll
Another recent Gallup Poll posed the question: Should the United States withdraw its troops if the South Vietnamese begin fighting among themselves in a big way? The polling organization said 54 per cent of Americans would favor withdrawal in that event, and only 28 per cent favored continuing to help South Viet Nam.

Eventual Withdrawal

Survey Shows Senators Favor Cutting NATO Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is strong sentiment in the Senate for reducing U.S. troop commitments to North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

Forty-four senators said they favored eventual withdrawal of U.S. divisions of 225,000 American fighting men massed along the Iron Curtain.

But of this group, only 15 said they would cut U.S. forces to a token level of one division at Namara said in a speech last week "the American people are not going to shirk their obligations in any part of the world, but they clearly cannot be expected to bear a disproportionate share of the common burden indefinitely."

Pentagon Support
There is recent evidence of Pentagon support for thinning out U.S. units in Europe. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in a speech last week "the American people are not going to shirk their obligations in any part of the world, but they clearly cannot be expected to bear a disproportionate share of the common burden indefinitely."

Mansfield Remarks
Mansfield said in an interview May 16 that Western Europe ought to be taking over its own defenses. He added that a single division would serve as well as six as a token of the United States presence on the continent and as a guarantee of American response to any Communist attack on the West.

Fifteen senators disagreed with Mansfield's position, most of them saying the United States must stand by its treaty commitments to NATO in spite of the fact that Western Europe ought to be taking over its own defenses. He added that a single division would serve as well as six as a token of the United States presence on the continent and as a guarantee of American response to any Communist attack on the West.

Review Board
A review board Wednesday reported the trouble was caused by an electrical short in a hydraulic valve system valve. The Atlas is to hoist the ATDA at 11 a.m. (EDT) Tuesday, with the astronauts to follow at 12:30 p.m. aboard a Titan 2 rocket.

Stafford and Cernan will attempt to catch and dock with the ATDA after a four-hour chase.

Boost Production
Advance information on a possible increase in soybean production could be used by a speculative trader, to sell soybeans for future delivery at a potentially large profit. The trader would be confident that soybeans could be obtained at a future delivery date at a much lower price because of the prospect of larger supplies.

The inspector general's investigating unit was created by Freeman after the 1962 disclosure of illegal transactions by Estes, a Texas financier involved in the purchase of cotton acreage planting allotments. Estes is now serving a prison term in connection with alleged fraud in fertilizer sales transactions with farmers.

Ahead of Release
A spokesman for the inspector general's office, while withholding details of the complaint, said the agency had been informed that a report of presidential plans had been published well ahead of the 12 noon release time.

Newsmen assigned to the Agriculture Department were asked by the investigator to tell how they handled the story where and when they received their information and other details. Those questioned told the Agriculture Department is investigating a complaint that an unauthorized and premature disclosure of President Johnson's plans to increase soybean acreage this year permitted a speculator to make "a pile of money."

This became known Wednesday after an investigator of the department's Office of Inspector General — an agency set up after the Billie Sol Estes scandals — questioned newsmen regarding their handling of the President's announcement.

Johnson told Congress in a special message Feb. 10 that he had instructed Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to encourage production of soybeans on land formerly planted to surplus grains. The plan was part of the President's food for peace program outlined that day.

demonstration in the central market.
Thousands had marched peacefully earlier today behind the coffin of a Vietnamese army lieutenant killed during the political tension last week, but later about 200 students assembled and marched on the U.S.I.S. building.

Newsman learned students from Hue University called the U.S. office and warned of the attack.
Several demonstrators lowered the American flag and apparently were preparing to rub it in the dirt when others stopped them.

Two Vietnamese military policemen on duty at the building made no effort to stop the attack. Fire trucks arrived about an hour after the mob. The firemen made no attempt to put out the blaze but only worked to prevent it from spreading to nearby houses.

Sack Building
A U.S. Army major reported he saw Thich Tri Quang, one of the chief leaders of the Buddhist anti-government movement, telling the demonstrators to stop the destruction.

A mob sacked the building — which also houses the U.S. Public Affairs Office — on Jan. 23, 1965, and burned about half the books of the U.S. library. That demonstration was aimed at ousting the civilian government of Premier Tran Van Huong, who was replaced four days later by Gen. Nguyen Khanh. Now the Buddhist battle cry is for a civilian regime.

Anti-Americanism has become increasingly strident since Ky's troops crushed the Da Nang revolt Monday. The Buddhists apparently had hoped a widespread show of anti-Ky sentiment might swing the Johnson administration away from the ruling junta. Instead, U.S. officials expressed relief the Da Nang uprising had collapsed without spilling more blood and urged both sides to get on with the war against the Communists and an orderly transfer to civilian rule.

Heated Speeches

Despite the heated speeches, the rebellion in Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, seemed to be losing steam following a declaration by the military commander in the area, Brig. Gen. Phan Xuan Nguan, that he and his men were behind the government. Some of Nguan's 1st Division troops helped armed Buddhist youths set up roadblocks in Hue last week.

U.S. diplomats said Wednesday night they thought Ky's government seemed in control again. But one American remarked "a lot depends on how the government handles liquidation of the revolt." He said it probably would be a mistake to send troops into Hue to take control of the city, as Ky did in Da Nang.

Committee To Inspect School Sites

RACINE (AP) — A powerful state committee on education plans a first-hand inspection of sites proposed for a new University of Wisconsin campus in the Racine-Kenosha area.

The tour will come only one day before the group meets to review a recommendation that the campus be built at Petrifying Springs Park midway between the two cities.

The Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHHE) will make a tour of the area next Wednesday its executive director Carlisle P. Runge said.

A site selection committee headed by Assemblyman Glen E. Pommerening, R-Wauwatosa, picked the Petrifying Springs site earlier this year after rejecting the first set of locations proposed to it.

The State Building Commission delayed action, however, on the Pommerening committee's recommendation and decided to wait until after the CCHHE meeting in Milwaukee one week from today.

Runge said Wednesday the committee would visit the present university centers in Racine and Kenosha and the abandoned Bong Air Force Base in a three-hour tour by bus.

He said various groups supporting particular sites would be given an opportunity to make formal presentations at the Milwaukee meeting the following day.

Two Protestant Church Leaders were elected during conventions Wednesday. Dr. H. Franklin Paschall, upper, pastor of First Baptist Church of Nashville, Tenn., is the new leader of the Southern Baptist Conference, largest Protestant denomination in the nation. ## Home Delivery Of Milk Is On Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — The home delivery system for fluid milk, which 40 years ago was based largely on home distribution system for fluid delivery, has changed to a wide variety of outlets including supermarkets, specialized dairy stores, convenience food stores, vending machines, gasoline stations and drive-in dairies, a reporter said.

Today is delivered to homes compared with 85 per cent 40 years ago.

ted error in the amendment to help overturn the vote.
The amendment's author, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., said he intended to block extension of the minimum wage law to workers in 995,000 retail and service establishments doing less than an annual gross business of $500,000. The bill would have dropped the present $1 million limit to $500,000 next year and to $250,000 in 1969.

Other Employees
In drafting the measure, however, Anderson also knocked out 650,000 employees of other businesses, including mining, manufacturing, processing, communications, finance and insurance, that do less than $1 million a year gross business.

The House voted 157 to 149 to reject an amendment by Rep. David T. Martin, R-Neb., to delete the farm provision. The bill would cover farms that employ 500 man-days of labor in any quarter.

The farm worker minimum would start at $1 an hour next Feb. 1, go to $1.15 in 1968 and to $1.30 in 1969. Other newly covered workers would get two additional 15-cent raises, reaching $1.60 in 1971.

Quality Doesn't Assure Success, Committee Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — The theory that building a better mouse trap guarantees business success "is for the birds," a business executive told a Senate subcommittee Wednesday.

Jeno F. Pauluzzi, president of the Chun King Corp., of Duluth, Minn., said that, even with a good product, "You'd better have the money to get your story to the consumer."

He testified before the Anti-trust and Monopoly Subcommittee, which is looking into the question of whether television networks favor their biggest customers in selling commercial giant advertiser.

He said, however, that some improvements had been made in the past decade, since then.

Everett Jordan of North Carolina, Robert F. Kennedy of New York, Warren G. Magnusson of Washington, Frank E. Moss of Utah, Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, Jennings Randolph of West Virginia, Stuart Symington of Missouri, John C. Stennis of Mississippi, Herman E. Talmadge of Georgia and Ralph W. Yarborough of Texas.

Typical Comment
Some typical comment: Dirksen: "European countries ought not to depend on us entirely for troop support and we ought to cut down the number of our own as much as reasonably possible."

Kennedy: "I would be in favor of reducing our forces to a token level as a long term objective, after consultation and agreement with our allies. As of the moment, I would not be in favor of it."

Eight Democrats and seven Republicans said they are against paring down American forces to a token level. Several of them said any move of this nature would be likely to torpedo NATO.

Democrats in this category included Sens. Howard W. Cannon of Nevada, Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Lee Metcalf of Montana, Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico, A.S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma, A. Willis Robertson of Virginia and Harryman in trying to purchase time. On one occasion, he said, his company paid for a show "about twice what it would have cost a customer in selling commercial giant advertiser."

He said, however, that some improvements had been made in the past decade, since then.

Depositions Taken in Dodd Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The taking of pretrial depositions begins today in the $5 million libel suit brought by Sen. Thomas H. Dodd against columnists as J. Dodd against columnists of Massachusetts, Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and Milward L. Simpson of Wyoming.

Typical comment:
Kuchel: "As an American, I believe in the theory of mutual security among free peoples. An Atlantic military alliance must remain as a deterrent to aggression. War anywhere on this globe affects the rest of the world."

Harris: "At a time when the Atlantic alliance is in disarray, I think it is rather unfortunate we should even be discussing the reduction of the United States ground troops there."

Wisconsin's Proxmire supported NATO troops reduction by saying: "The main advantage in having American troops in Europe is to symbolize defense of Western Europe and one division would have the same effect as five or six."

In the suit, the Connecticut Democrat accuses the columnists of falsely picturing him as unfit to be a senator, as an agent of foreign interests, as interfering with the award of government contracts in return for bribes, and as unlawfully diverting campaign funds for his own use.

First on the list of witnesses to be questioned was James P. Boyd Jr., a former aid to Dodd. The senator's lawyers say there was a conspiracy under which former Dodd employees removed documents from the senator's files and made them available to the columnists.

The pretrial statement taking is expected to continue for weeks.

would increase from $10 million to $20 million the amount the State Investment Board could put into the program.

Critics of the proposed salary policy said the Legislature should not give up its authority to set the specific pay for department heads.

Sen. Ernest Keppeler R-Sheboygan argued that unsatisfied state workers could seek higher paying jobs elsewhere. "They're not the only pebbles on the beach," Keppeler said.

Keppeler lost the argument as the Senate passed the measure 18-13 and sent it to the Assembly.

Afternoon Caucus
The Assembly spent most of its afternoon session in caucus but did approve one bill doubling the amount available for loans to resident students seeking a higher education.

The measure which would authorize the State Commission on Higher Educational Aids to be made if demolition were administer the loan program not necessary.

Earn $50 Million For Storing Farm Commodities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government report showed today farmers earned upwards of $50 million between last July 1 and March 31 for storing price support commodities on their farms.

The commodities mostly were corn, wheat, sorghum grain and oats. Usually, the Agriculture Department extends latest crop-year price support loans on grains stored under such loans on farms. This helps the government store and manage its supplies in the interest of needs of possible future users and price stability.

Rates allowed farmers are in line with those paid commercial warehouse concerns.

The Year's Big Test

Crucial Highway Weekend Predicted

The most crucial period on Wisconsin roads this year begins Friday afternoon and will continue through late Monday.

Local and state law enforcement agencies and the Wisconsin National Guard are bracing for the Memorial Day traffic push which, partly because of favorable five-day weather forecasts in this region, promises to be of major proportion.

Sgt. Donald Jones of the state patrol said the "critical period" will start about 2 p.m. Friday. Heavy traffic should start slackening off about 10 p.m. Friday, then hold quite steady over the weekend, according to Jones.

In accordance with an emergency condition on Wisconsin roads, proclaimed for the weekend by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, National Guardsmen will aid state police in patrol efforts on the main highways.

Eight guardsmen from the Appleton unit will help patrol from the Butte des Morts bridge north to Appleton on U. S. 41.

Guardsmen have aided state police in past years, by using their own vehicles and by riding in patrol cars.

Jones said that guard units will also help in the Manitowish, Sheboygan, and Fond du Lac areas.

As in past years, one of the most severe problem areas on Fox Valley highways will be the bottle-neck at the Butte des Morts bridge where on the Friday night before Memorial Day 1965, there was a four mile traffic backup.

Funnel Traffic

State patrolmen and guardsmen will "keep a good eye" on this area, Jones said. An attempt reportedly will be made to "funnel" traffic into a single northbound lane some distance south of the bridge approach.

"We know we'll have a traffic backup at the bridge; about all we can do is watch the rear end of the line and slow down approaching traffic to avoid rear end collisions," Jones admitted. Attempts in past years to route northbound traffic through Oshkosh instead of over the bridge have not proven successful, patrol officials said.

Another critical traffic area will be U. S. 45 from U. S. 41 to New London and north.

Jones said today that all available state patrolmen in this district will be working over the long weekend, and stated that work shifts have been arranged to overlap during the peak traffic periods.

Monday promises to be nearly as busy a time as Friday on area highways, as travelers start home. The "emergency" proclaimed by Gov. Knowles continues to midnight Monday. Jones predicted the peak period Monday will be 2 to 10 p.m.

Sgt. Lowell Veitch, acting head of the Outagamie County traffic patrol, said he will "have a full complement of men on the roads over the long weekend."

His areas of prime concern include U.S. Highways 10 and 45 and State Highways 47, 76 and 54. A detour on State 47 near Black Creek could cause some problems, it was learned.

Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spice had this advice for weekend motorists:

"Allow enough time for trips to avoid haste and chance-taking. Take rest periods regularly during the trip to avoid drowsiness. A safety check before setting out on a trip may also turn up defects which could cause delay or even death."

Spice predicted that the Memorial Day traffic will test the most important safety factor of all—the driver.

"Despite all the controversy over mechanical safety in automobiles," he said, "the three most important parts of a moving car are still the hands on the wheel, the eye on the road, and the foot on the gas. The best engineered car can still be driven through a red light."

Appleton Will Negotiate Firemen's New Time Schedule

Department Will Add 10 Men When Week Drops to 56 Hours

Although Appleton firemen will go on a 56-hour week Dec. 31 the actual work schedule should be negotiable, the city's prospective firemen as soon as possible.

On 24, Off 48 Hours

Kuehl said under his proposed work schedule, a fireman would be on duty for 24 hours and then off for 48 hours. This would not affect the men who agreed to by the city in the negotiations last winter with the Appleton Firefighters Association, which requires hiring 10 additional men.

Fire Chief Roland Kuehl wrote a letter to the personnel committee outlining the work schedule he proposed. He intends to start interviewing prospective employees would want to know working hours and conditions.

The committee indicated it had information the men want a different work schedule than that proposed by the chief — one which would allow four consecutive days off as is done in some other Valley cities.

40-Hour Week

Ald. Richard Huisman (1st) said he felt eventually the firemen would be seeking a 40-hour week.

"That day will come," Huisman said, "and then we can put them on eight-hour shifts."

The committee decided the fire department could not do any hiring until the new work schedule is approved, and will contact the fireman's union to set up a meeting to discuss the matter.

Kaukauna Police Use New Radio

KAUKAUNA — City police have started using a new very high frequency (VHF) radio system in the city, designed to provide policemen in patrol cars or on the beat with better communication to the main station.

The central station is equipped with a transmitting and receiving system enabling the desk sergeant to communicate directly with men on patrol without having to call the sheriff's department to use the county radio system.

Beat officers and patrolmen in squad cars are equipped with walkie-talkie units for communication to the central station. Officers with these sets also are able to communicate directly with one another, thus making it possible to call for assistance in an emergency without having to make a telephone call.

The city has four walkie-talkie units, one of which is usually being recharged while others are in service. The unit is designed to permit adaptation of additional units if growth of the city warrants additional radio equipment.

DPW Head, William Bues, Resigns Post Unexpectedly

Appleton Council Group to Start Advertising for New Director

BY WILLIAM C. CAREY Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues resigned unexpectedly Wednesday night.

In giving up his $13,000 a year job, the 41-year-old Bues cited "personal reasons" and said he intends to seek private employment.

Bues, who came here from Rhinelander in March of 1963, made his surprise announcement at a lengthy meeting of the Appleton Council's street-sanitation committee.

The resignation will become effective July 31, based on an agreement worked out between Bues, the committee and Mayor George Buckley who was summoned to city hall shortly before 8 p.m.

Accepted "With Regret"

The committee accepted Bues' resignation "with regret" and set the machinery in motion

Ald. Roy Pointer (14th), committee chairman and council president, indicated his disappointment at losing the head of the city's largest department, and praised Bues for his "outstanding record."

"I deeply regret seeing him leave," Mayor Buckley said. "He is a fine engineer and has done an excellent job for the City of Appleton."

Several Projects

Bues said he realized Appleton has several major projects in the works and offered to stay on through July so there would be no letup.

He discussed his resignation with the committee for about an hour with no one else present, and agreement was reached that the mayor be present and informed of the action before making it public.

Mayor Buckley had been at the meeting of the council, Mayor Buckley was asked by the committee to poll the city's 20 aldermen to obtain permission to proceed with filing the key post.

Applications from the Town of Menasha and the City of Neenah for federal funds were approved Wednesday by the open space-land use committee of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission.

Village to Sell Season Passes for Doyle Park Facility

LITTLE CHUTE — The village swimming pool at Doyle Park is scheduled to open this weekend, but in the meantime police issued a reminder that persons who enter the pool when the fence gate is locked are subject to arrest and a fine.

A high fence was installed around the pool to keep young children from falling into the water. Older students have been climbing the fence trying to take an early swim. Police have chased them from the pool, but now will start arresting violators, according to Robert Necho-dom, chief of police.

Winnebago Hospital Symposium

Panelists Question Role Of Psychiatrist in Court

BY FERN SMITH
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

WINNEBAGO — Judges and psychiatrists looked at their respective responsibilities in determining a defendant's ability to stand trial under existing Wisconsin law at Wednesday's symposium here on mental disorder and triability.

Wide differences of opinion were expressed by panel members, men who have made a specialty of psychiatric law, and no specific conclusions were drawn.

Discussions revolved around two questions: When a person is put on trial, is he able to stand trial and was he responsible when he committed the criminal act?

The first question of competency to stand trial was defined to say an individual "must possess sufficient capacity to comprehend the nature and object of the proceedings and his own position in relation to those proceedings. He should be able to advise counsel rationally in the preparation and implementation of his own defense."

The 143-year-old McNaughton Rule has been applied in Wisconsin. It provides that triability be based on whether the defendant "knew what he was doing at the time he committed the act."

One Court Question

The psychiatrist's role can be confined under this rule to answering one court question: "Did the individual know right from wrong when he committed the act?"

On that answer, a jury may determine whether the defendant goes to a mental hospital or to prison.

Under terms of the Wisconsin law, the psychiatrist can play no further role in determining a defendant's ability to stand trial unless a judge requests pre-trial examination. This information may or may not be furnished to the prosecuting and defense attorneys.

Justice Bruce Beilfuss, Wisconsin Supreme Court, said a judge has to have the responsibility for the court room. "He knows best, most of the time, whether an individual is competent to stand trial."

"Any trial judge should have a good psychiatric evaluation made and use this information to determine whether, in his judgment, an individual can stand trial," Judge Edwin Wil-a means of railroading an ke, circuit court, Dane County, individual to a mental hospital "Pass Buck"

"Here in Wisconsin the court can appoint a psychiatrist to see are considered the villains. if an individual can stand trial, but I think some of the judges and I believe this information are 'chicken' and want to pass, should be used to provide a speedy trial for the defendant."

Should Not Participate

Some felt that as a rule a psychiatrist should not participate in criminal court proceedings. Dr. Jerome H. Skolnick, University of California and author of "Justice Without Trial: Law Enforcement In A Democratic Society," expressed his concern that there is a danger zone in determining triability.

"What is done in pre-trial examination and the latitude of the psychiatrist's report in the proceedings can mean commitment or imprisonment," he said.

"There are doubtless miscarriages of justice in both psychiatric and criminal process. Sometimes pre-trial psychiatric examinations can be a trap and

Monthly Parley Attendance By City Official Reaffirmed

Members of the Appleton Council's welfare - ordinance committee have reaffirmed their recommendation that the city welfare director attend monthly meetings of the City Welfare Directors Association of Wisconsin.

They took their action after a recent statement by Mayor George Buckley he was thinking about vetoing the authorization.

At its last meeting the council approved the director's participation at the monthly meetings.

In another action, the council's public safety this week authorized a member of the city police department to attend an FBI training session at Kansas City, Mo. from June 5 to 8 at city expense.

It was indicated Mayor Buckley approved of the policeman's trip.

The mayor has said he is against any city employees or elected officials attending out-of-state conventions.

Injunction Threatened Against Union

MENASHA — A court injunction was being studied today as a means of getting union workers, who walked off their jobs Tuesday morning at the Racine Street construction site, to return to work.

The announcement came this morning from Wilford Elliott, attorney for Joski Construction Co., Green Bay, who said he considered that "Joski has grounds" for bringing the injunction against Operating Engineers Local 139. Elliott said he planned to take the necessary steps this afternoon.

The problem began two weeks ago when Local 139 set up pickets at the construction site; due to the fact that Wieseler Construction Co., Appleton, a non-union firm, was working on the job. Wieseler entered the picture after it sub-contracted with Fox Valley Construction Co., Appleton, to clear trees and the existing pavement from Racine Street in the six-block construction area.

Fox Valley, a union firm, is general contractor for the street pavement job and has a contract with the State Highway Commission for the work. When pickets from Local 139 appeared at the site in opposition to Wieseler's work there, Joski union employees refused to cross picket lines.

A meeting of Joski employees Wednesday night "came to no conclusion," Elliott said.

Fox Valley, according to a commission official, is responsible directly to the commission for completion of the work, including any work Fox Valley may have sub-contracted for with Wieseler.

C. J. Garvey, president of Fox Valley, said the Commission had approved the sub-contract with Wieseler and was supervising Wieseler's work. The commission official said his office had no interest in the sub-contract, but only with the main contract.

Assembly Votes Funds To Preserve 26 Miles Of Wolf as Wild River

MADISON — The Assembly voted this morning to reserve 26 miles along the Wolf River in Menominee County as wild river territory. The vote was 87-3.

the Darboy Club where he spoke before a local group. When he arrived at city hall at about 8 p.m. the committee went into an executive session with reporters present.

Bues told the mayor and committee he would put his resignation in writing today.

He felt the city should expedite the selection of his successor, estimating it might take two to four months when disposing of refuse at construction sites.

Bues, a native of Milwaukee who worked for the Milwaukee and Wauwatosa Public Works Departments before taking over the directorship at Rhinelander, said he would seek private employment in the area.

"I want to stay and live in Appleton," Bues said. Actually, he will be on the job for another six weeks and then has two weeks vacation coming.

There are several projects connected with the operation of the department of public works presently in the planning or implementation stage.

Pipeline Project
Existing timetables call for the start of a water pipeline project, construction of a 450-car parking structure downtown and a 15-mile street resurfacing program this summer.

The schedule also calls for completion of working plans for the reconstruction of College Avenue set for the spring of next year. Bids are supposed to be taken late this fall.

Construction of the new city garage will be completed in three to four months with occupancy scheduled for Oct. 1.

Bues was appointed by former mayor, Clarence Mitchell, on May 15, 1963 after being the No. 1-ranked candidate in State Bureau of Personnel examinations. He succeeded Edward Duszynski, who became the public works director at Madison, after heading the local DPW for eight years.

In addition to reorganizing the public works department and improving municipal services, Bues has directed the city's multi-million dollar capital improvement program.

Builders Claim City Laws on Refuse, Dirt Cause Problems

The Valley Home Builders Association has written Appleton Mayor George Buckley of problems which they attribute to city ordinances and their enforcement.

Henry C. Bauer, secretary of the 74-member trade association, asked for a meeting with the mayor to explain their problems in detail.

They claim they are experiencing difficulties and expense because of the city ordinance requiring contractors to clean up their dirt from city streets, and to be accountable for disposing of refuse at construction sites.

(Many cities have such ordinances and in most instances the penalty for strewing dirt and mud on municipal streets is a fine for each violation.)

Difficult Problem
"I will merely say that preventing dirt from falling on the street during excavation and removal of excess fill is practically impossible," Bauer wrote the mayor.

"Also disposal of refuse which accumulates at a home building site during construction is difficult because burning is prohibited and the city clean-up crews will not pick it up."

Bauer said the association felt by calling the matter to the mayor's attention, it was hoped the climate for business now located here can be improved.

Bauer said a majority of the Hedrich Construction Co. of Chilton is the contractor for the project. It submitted a price of $92,461 for the work.

Fine Man From Marion For Driving Wrong Way, No License

Guyanese Cheer as British Colony Gains Independence

Prime Minister Weeps During Solemn Rites

By PAUL FINCH
GEORGETOWN, Guyana (AP) — Floodlights lit up the midnight sky Wednesday night and 50,000 Guyanese cheered as the five-colored flag of Guyana went up in place of the Union Jack, signaling independence for another British colony.

The joyous outburst came after a solemn moment in Queen Elizabeth Park when the British flag was lowered in darkness while hands played "God Save the Queen."

A few persons near the press box shouted, "Down! Down for good!"

Then the lights blazed on, and the hands switched to "Green Land of Guyana" as the new national banner was hoisted. Prime Minister Forbes Burnham wept.

Former Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan, Marxist foe of Burnham, appeared at the ceremony and to general surprise embraced his successor.

Jagan told newsmen: "I have come, as I promised, to honor independence."

Jagan and his People's Progressive Party are boycotting all ceremonies aside from the flag raising and the opening of the first independent Parliament. His Chicago-born wife, Janet, refused to attend the ceremony Wednesday night.

Burnham's image burned on a fireworks screen at the park after a spectacular display of pyrotechnics.

Georgetown, which appeared sleepy earlier this week, came alive with thousands jamming the streets, dancing, cheering, and drinking rum.

Steel bands and calypso singers entertained in major night spots. The holiday was expected to run through the weekend and Monday, which is a religious day.

Flag raising ceremonies took place simultaneously in every town and village of the new nation on the northern coast of South America. They marked the end of 385 years of British, Dutch and French rule.

Guyana becomes the 23rd member of the British Commonwealth. The Duke and Duchess of Kent represented the queen at the ceremony in Georgetown.

Presbyterian Vows To Work for Unity

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

BOSTON (AP) — The new chief executive of the United Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. was pledged today to press for Christian unity and for vigorous application of the faith to the problems of modern society.

Clothing Firms Nudged Into Military Work

Manufacturers Reluctant to Submit To Federal Control

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department has been using a form of compulsion to get clothing manufacturers to fill nearly one-fifth of its military uniform orders since last July, Pentagon figures showed today.

This is in contrast to past wars when contractors scrambled for government orders.

The reason, Pentagon officials said, is now there are no wartime controls to limit the amount of material which can be devoted to the civilian market.

Rated Orders

In the past 10 months, the Defense Supply Agency said, procurement officials issued 218 "rated orders" for uniform items out of a total of 1,157 contracts.

A rated order is Pentagonese for an official action in which the government selects a firm it knows can do the work and requires the company to accept an order. The terms are negotiated.

Rated orders are used when not enough volunteers bid on military contracts. The compulsion is permitted under the Defense Production Act.

In one recent contract, 271 firms were invited to bid but only 10 submitted proposals. In another case, the government got three proposals out of 88 firms which were invited to take part.

Civilian Market

"With many manufacturers geared to meet the needs of the civilian market," one DSA official said, "there has been some reluctance to shift to the military market."

Asked why the clothing industry is reluctant to step forward and accept defense business, the official said:

"Manufacturers understandably are reluctant to submit themselves to military specifications. It is easier for them to fill civilian orders than to meet military specifications. And they are in a position where they want to meet their civilian buyers' needs."

Funds Granted For Midwest Education Lab

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Office of Education has approved a $168,589 grant to finance a six-month planning program for establishment of a four-state educational research laboratory in the Midwest.

The project director will be Dr. David M. Jackson, associate dean of the College of Education at the University of Illinois.

The four states affected are Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin. Headquarters will be at Champaign-Urbana, Ill., for the first three months and later at Chicago and Indianapolis.

A non-profit corporation is to operate the multi-million dollar laboratory, which is expected to involve expenditure of $5 million annually by its fifth year.

churches to be enclaves of refuge and safety from the world," says William Phelps Thompson, the first layman named to the top leadership of his denomination in this century.

A trim, 5-foot-11 man, with a ready wit and a level gaze, Thompson was elected stated clerk of the 3.3-million-member denomination Wednesday in its first change-over in administration in 15 years.

Council Secretary

He is to succeed the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, one of the nation's leading Protestants, who resigned to become general secretary of the World Council of Churches.

Thompson, 47, a Wichita, Kan., lawyer, told a news conference he intended to pursue policies which, under Dr. Blake, brought the denomination into the front lines of social causes and efforts for Christian reunion.

"Whatever opportunities we have," he said, "will be used to further the unity of the church." Referring to current talks for a merger of eight Protestant bodies, with a total of 24 million members, he said:

Important Events

"This probably is the most important thing happening to the church today in this country."

"We're all very thrilled," said Mrs. Thompson, a poised woman who was accompanied by the three Thompson children, Judith, 16, Bill, 14, and Margaret, 11.

Thompson was elected on the closing day of the church's eight-day governing assembly, winning over two clergymen, the Rev. Dr. Hugh Miller of Dover, N. J., and the Rev. Dr. John W. Heister of Fort Wayne, Ind.

New Southern Baptist Leader Gives View of Race, Religion

DETROIT (AP) — Youthful looking Dr. H. Franklin Paschall, new president of the Southern Baptist Convention, has definite ideas about the future of religion in this country.

He outlined many of them at a news conference Wednesday after his election as head of the nation's largest Protestant denomination.

The 44-year-old Paschall fielded nearly 50 questions ranging from the Negro's part in the Southern Baptist church to Paschall's views on separation of church and state.

Racial Issue

Nearly half of the questions dealt with the racial issue. The new convention head commented, "I have been distressed over the racial problem, distressed on both sides in the struggle."

He said the federal government had provided laws governing integration and equality and added:

"We have the laws now and if Christian leaders can instill the proper attitude in people, we will have significant progress."

Dr. Paschall discussed the ecumenical movement briefly. An hour earlier, two Southern Baptist Convention delegates (messengers) had disclosed the Baptist church was considering holding interfaith talks with Roman Catholics.

Sanction of Cardinal Cushing

Protestant Version of Bible Given Approval by Roman Catholics

BOSTON (AP) — Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, has given official Roman Catholic approval to a Protestant version of the Bible.

The move, described by a priest as a "breakthrough for the ecumenical movement," means Roman Catholics everywhere can use the Revised Standard Version of the Oxford annotated Bible.

The approval covers "common usage," such as home Bible reading and study groups, but does not extend to liturgical use. Cardinal Cushing gave the version his approval, known as an "imprimatur," late last month. The action was announced Wednesday.

An imprimatur is permission from an ecclesiastical authority that a book may be safely read by Roman Catholics without damage to faith or morals.

The revised Oxford version was authorized by the National Council of Churches of the U.S.A. in 1951 and first published by Oxford Press in 1962 for Protestant use.

It derives from the classic King James version of 1611.

The Oxford version has been used for the past three years in Bible courses at Holy Cross College in Worcester, Mass., in an experiment.

The Rev. W. Van Etting Casey, a faculty member at the Jesuit institution, said the experiment proved successful and helped speed the approval, which he described as an ecumenical breakthrough.

Thus Roman Catholics now can use a Protestant Bible that also contains background material produced by American Protestant scholars.

Cardinal Cushing, a leader in the ecumenical movement, based his approval on the "best objective scholarship." Father Casey said. The recommendation for approval came from a committee of Protestant and Roman Catholic scholars.

The committee included Father Casey, the Rev. Philip J. King of St. John's Seminary in Boston, who consulted with the Bible's co-editors, Dr. Herbert G. May of the Oberlin School of Theology and Dr. Bruce Metzger of the Princeton Theological Seminary.

None of the Protestant material in the revised Oxford edition has to be eliminated, church officials here said, adding that only 14 notations are required.

The notations concern the Roman Catholic belief that the mother of God, Mary, was a virgin.

Outer Space Probably Holds Intelligent Life, Scientist-Priest Says

Extraterrestrial Beings Would Satisfy Goodness, Priest Says

By RALPH DIGHTON
AP Science Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Does intelligence exist "out there?" A scientist-priest says yes, and speculates some may be angel-like superior beings while others may be "fallen" creatures like ourselves.

The Rev. J. Joseph Lynch, Fordham University seismologist, told a symposium of the American Astronomical Society in suburban Anaheim Wednesday that God's desire to share His goodness "would be better satisfied by having myriads of galaxies inhabited by intelligent beings."

Four hundred scientists and space engineers applauded Dr. Lynch at the closing session of a meeting devoted to technical aspects of "the search for extraterrestrial life."

Surprising Position

Commented Dr. Harold Klein, assistant director for life sciences at the U.S. Space Agency's Ames Research Center, who invited Dr. Lynch to speak:

"I confess I am surprised at the positive position taken by him. It is obvious the church is prepared for the contingency we may find intelligent life on other worlds. It is coming to grips with this problem."

Said Dr. Ernan McMullin, professor of philosophy at the University of Notre Dame, also on the symposium panel:

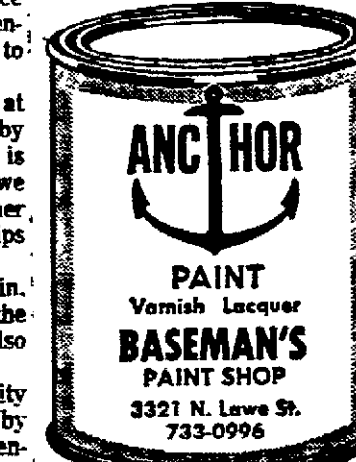

"The possibility of a plurality of worlds has been discussed by theologians since the 14th century."

After men like Dr. Frank Drake of Cornell University's Center for Radiophysics proposed huge radio observatories to hunt for emissions from distant civilizations, Dr. Lynch offered this admittedly theological clincher:

Reasonable Supposition

"It seems reasonable to suppose some of our extraterrestrial neighbors would survive the test (of acknowledging God's supremacy, which He said in suburban Anaheim Wednesday caused some angels to fall) and some, like ourselves, fail as we did in the person of our first parents (Adam and Eve)."

"We could expect, therefore, at least two broad classes of extraterrestrial neighbors: Those who survived the test and those who failed." Dr. Lynch added there might even be a civilization worse than ours: "A race fallen but not redeemed — a possibility I do not care to entertain — would be far inferior to us."

Play Letter-Guessing Game With Pencil and Paper

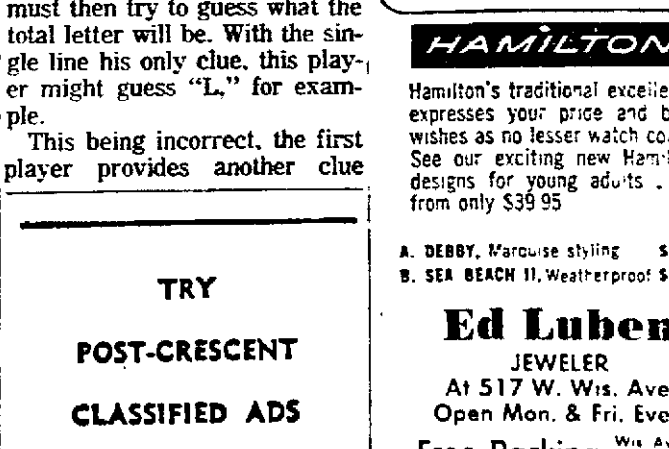

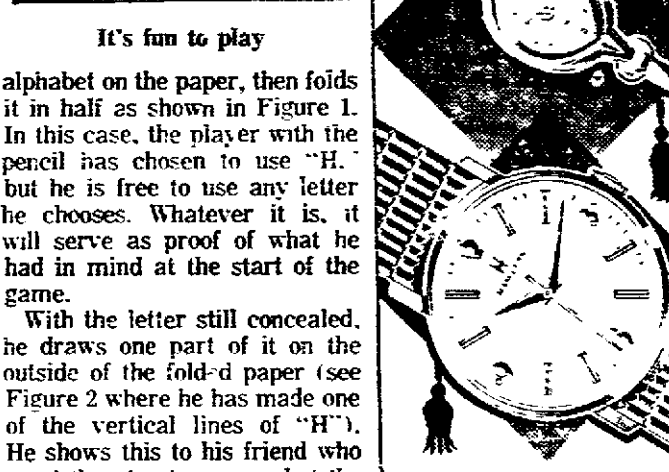

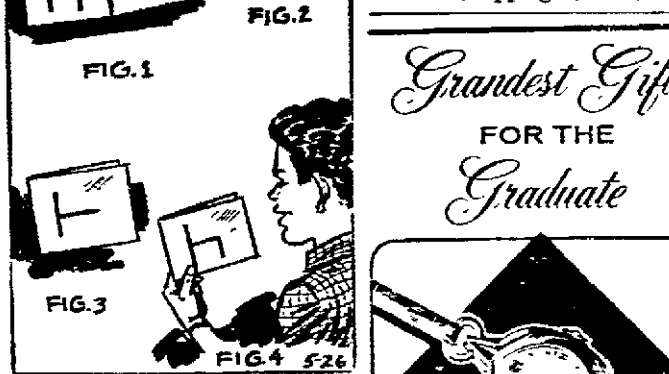

BY CAPPY DICK

The game of "What Letter Am I Making?" is fun to play with a friend while riding on a bus.

There can be only two players. One must have paper and a pencil. Without letting the other player see what he is doing, he prints a capital letter of the alphabet on the paper, then folds it in half as shown in Figure 1.

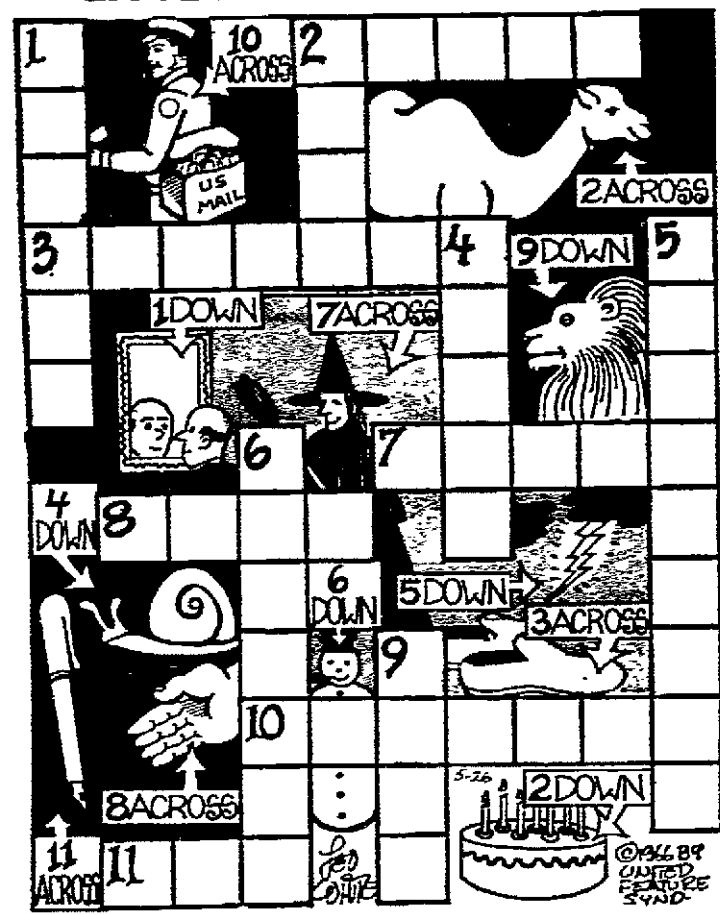

This gives the second player enough evidence for him to guess correctly that the concealed letter which the first player has had in mind is "H." This is proved to be correct when the paper is unfolded. It is then the second player's turn to use the paper and pencil and prepare a concealed letter of his own.

Singers Sonny, Cher Say They're Real True Blue

Young Couple Believes in Their Music; Likes Clothing That Has Become Trademark

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some thought that Sonny and Cher were putting us on. In case you're not conversant with the current expressions, "putting on" is a current favorite to express the act of performing a hoax of variable proportions. Could this be true of Sonny and Cher?

Some might consider that the pair's trappings are bit beyond belief: his Prince Valiant haircut and bobcat-skin jacket; her bell-bottom pajamas of noisy hues. Then there is the music they provide, much of it exciting and cheerful, but with musical inanity that would drive his usual animal-skin jacket.

Cher was in a blowy wig and short skirt as his moll. I asked the burning question: "are you putting us on?" "The Music?" answered Sonny, who was born Salvatore Bono in Detroit 26 years ago. "There's nothing put-on about it. It's what we believe in."

"The pajama outfits," said Cher (Last name: La Pierre, 20, from El Centro, Calif.) They're what I like. It's great to have an outfit that you can wear anywhere, for any occasion. I saw a named Sonny and Cher who pair one day and fell in love with them.

"The same with my jacket," said Sonny. "I saw one like it in a movie—'Last for Life,' only it was lamb skin. I said to myself, 'I want a jacket like that.' Then one day I saw a bobcat vest in a store and I had to have it. "As for my hair, it's me. I've been wearing it this way since before I got in the business—four years ago. I remember someone showing me a picture of the Beatles in a magazine and saying, 'Here are four guys who look like you.'"

"Last year we made over a million, easy," said Sonny. "This year? I dunno. I lost a lot on this movie. I worked on it for six months, because I wanted to make sure it would be right. And it's going to be."

Sonny is a onetime truck driver, masseur and waiter who landed in the music business as an assistant to record producer Phil Spector. Cher was a high school dropout and drama student, and they met on a double date. Their marriage, on Oct. 27, 1964, would seem to have ruled them out as teen-age fad vortices.

Outdoor Adventure Movie "The Night of the Grizzly" probably boasts the tallest and shortest performers ever to appear together in one motion picture. Star Clint Walker is a tall 6 feet, 3 inches and the diminutive Victoria Paige Meyerink is a scant 2 feet, 11 inches. Walker portrays the head of a frontier family in the Paramount film. Little Miss Meyerink plays his precocious daughter in the homesteading story of Wyoming in the 1880s. Co-stars are Keenan Wynn and Martha Hyer.

Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments," which began its New York "command performance" engagement this week, is scheduled for the Viking Theater in Appleton in June.

"The Ten Commandments," an epic dramatization of the Book of Exodus in the Old Testament, stars Charlton Heston as Moses and Yul Brynner as the Pharaoh. Other stars include Anne Baxter, Edward G. Robinson, Yvonne De Carlo, Debra Paget, John Derek, Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Judith Anderson and Vincent Price.

The Paramount Pictures attraction in Technicolor was produced and directed by DeMille and written for the screen by Aeneas MacKenzie, Jesse L. Lasky, Jr., Jack Gariss and Frederic M. Frank.

Work Addicts Shouldn't Rely Only on Coffee

Corporations Join
Doctors in Studying
Ways of Executives

NEW YORK (AP) — Work addicts are urged to take a work break instead of just relying on more coffee.

The neurotic ways of the business executive who thinks the company can't function without him are coming under closer inspection by both physicians and corporate management.

The doctors worry about the social and personal problems that can build up from executive tensions. These sometimes lead to mental or physical breakdowns.

Management is worrying about what tension in the executive suite may be doing to morale. Also there is the problem of how growing tension may affect the making of crucial dollar and cents decisions.

Physical Symptoms
Like drug, alcohol and gambling addicts, the one who is being hooked by his work and Council, Inc., Larchmont, N.Y. by his preoccupation with it is Dr. William C. Menninger, usually the last to recognize his founder of the Menninger Clinic trouble or to admit his addiction. Instead, he develops all kinds of physical symptoms that physicians find hard to trace to physical causes.

"Excessive behavior of practically any kind begets addiction," says Dr. Nelson Bradley of the Parkside Clinic, Des Plaines, Ill. "For the drinker, anything above the one or two drinks necessary to gain the relaxation he legitimately may seek is excessive behavior. In the case of the executive and his workload, I believe that anything over a 40-hour work week is excessive behavior, particularly in this day of good corporate organization and extremely competent subordinates."

The work addict will plead a rush of demands, Dr. Bradley says, when "the events leading to the rush have actually been instigated by the man himself."

Separate the work addict from his work for any reason and he'll show withdrawal symptoms just as other addicts do. These include excessive restlessness, irritability and a measure of irrationality. When on a vacation he drives himself at a furious rate. And like other addicts, the one hooked by his work easily slides back into his frenzied habits.

"Neurotic ways of handling about what tension in the executive suite may be doing to morale. Also there is the problem of how growing tension may affect the making of crucial dollar and cents decisions."

his physician because of tension, but physicians' offices are filled with patients who complain of symptoms resulting from tensions," notes Dr. Theodore G. Klumpp, president of Winthrop Laboratories, a division of Sterling Drug.

He holds that a certain amount of stress, different for each person, is a powerful spur to creativity or productivity. But the extremes of stress, from either intensity or duration, are harmful. Tensions are revealed in nervousness or sleeplessness, diarrhea, spastic colitis, loss of weight or gaining of too much weight too fast.

If you're becoming a work addict, he suggests a work break. And for most executives the best work break is a regular program of physical exercise.

Pushups won't do, Dr. Klumpp contends. Nor will walking, swimming, golf, tennis or bicycling — if done only on Sunday. The work break has to be taken every day. And above all beware of that common advice to "take it easy."

Don't worry about physical strain, the doctor and drug company executive adds. It's not a "fulfilling, rewarding life to be afraid to live for fear of dying."

Auto Industry Cutting Back Production

DETROIT (AP) — The auto industry, facing the task of selling the greatest inventory of new cars in its history, reportedly has cut 100,000 units from production schedules.

The report came Wednesday from Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry trade publication. It said the cutback is in addition to an estimated 175,000 units Ward's said were chopped from production schedules two weeks ago.

The industry in the past week has revealed two significant figures:

— It sold 242,407 cars in the May 11-20 period, about 3,000 units behind the corresponding total for the same period of 1965.

— And its inventory of unsold cars passed the 1.6 million mark for the first time in history.

Ward's said the cutback of 100,000 cars "does not include all four major auto makers," but the trade paper did not name which firms were to cut down on production.

Beloit President Seeks Aid to All College Students

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Every high school graduate who qualifies for college should get cash help from the government, the president of Beloit College said Wednesday.

Dr. Miller Upton called for a GI bill of rights approach to financing college education. He suggested a stipend be given, either by state or federal government, to individuals to use at the colleges of their choice.

Dr. Upton, speaking at a Milwaukee civic luncheon, criticized present aid programs which stress grants to the college and the university rather than the individual.

"Our whole approach to the needs of higher education can be accurately labeled as one of planned mediocrity," he said.

BY TV SCOUT

6:30-7:30 — Channels 4-5 — The London Palladium Show is the first of six variety specials from London's equivalent of Broadway's Palace. (London already has a palace.) Lorne Greene is host of this fast-paced show with some good talent unfamiliar to Americans, notably Millicent Martin, very good in a "Peanut Vendor" song and dance (it gets so rousing one of the male dancers literally flips his wig). French foot juggler Jean Claude, who works with two little boy dummies, Kathy Kirby, a platinum blonde belting singer and comic magician Tommy Cooper. More familiar are Roy Castle, in a "one-man band" number and Roger Moore, charming and funny as he makes notes for his forthcoming stint as host. (Color)

7:30-8 — Channels 11-6-9 — Gidget has a cut episode as Sally Field invites Duff the Drag to the spinstor hop to bolster his ego. But then she sees Chuck, self-described as "a hummer ninety even-six-two — no scars or odder disfiguring blemishes." He's beautiful, but dumb, and Gidget wants to date him. (R-Color)

7:30-8 — Channels 2-7-12 — My Three Sons has fun with the idea of going away to college. Robbie (Don Grady) decides to move into a dorm, and so he "goes away" from home — a five-minute drive to college. (R-Color)

7:30-8:30 — Channels 4-5 — Julie Harris brings her special luminous quality to Laredo, playing one of those parasoled.

8:30-9 — Channels 11-6-9 — Bewitched, which still has a few weeks before it begins repeats, has some flashbacks to what-might-have-been. Seems Samantha is worried that Darren might not have married her had he known that she was a house-haunting, broom-riding, cauldron-stirring witch. So, at mother Endora's suggestion, Samantha goes back to see what might-have-been.

8:30-9 — Channels 2-7-12 — The Thursday Night Movies send "The Wackiest Ship in the Army" on another sail into the TV channels. It's a funny service movie, with Jack Lemmon as the beleaguered and bewildered commander of an aged schooner, and Ricky Nelson as a well-meaning ensign. (R-Color)

8:30-9 — Channels 4-5 — Keely Smith joins the gang at Mickey Finn's for some blatant music. There are some hot tunes performed by the band and dancers, and some easy-to-bare tunes like "The Stripper" and "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody." (Color)

9-10 — Channels 11-6-9 — The Baron's part Chicago gangster, part western story is helped by the style of its players and the English setting. It's a cat and mouse game as the Baron foils a museum hold-up and witnesses the killing of a policeman. (R-Color)

Only 20 Percent Corn Planted; Half of 1965

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin has a little more than 20 per cent of the intended corn acreage planted, the weekly crop and weather report said today.

Last year at this time, twice as much of the work was completed.

In much of the north, corn planting has scarcely begun; a few lake shore counties have done little and along the western edge of the state and in most of the south one-third of the crop is in.

Planting is being completed. Some oat planting is still underway in the north and as far south as Lake Winnebago. Potato planting was reported going along slowly.

Farmers generally rate the spring season about two weeks late.

Soil moisture was described as adequate in all areas.

Sunshine, Auction Draw Lots of Buyers

NEW LONDON — They kept the kitchen sink; but almost everything else was taken out into the Saturday sunshine and sold at public auction.

Rawhide, Inc., being set up as a year-round home for eight boys and a summer camp for about 300, sold the furnishings of former owner Ray Carlson under the sponsorship of the Neenah Service Circle of The King's Daughters.

After the totals were in, the auction figure added up to $1,650. The money will be used to furnish the house in sturdy ranch oak, suitable for the kind of use boys give a home.

Early Start

The day began early on the grounds of Rawhide, near New London. Members of the Appleton Javcees carried the furniture onto the lawn and arranged it attractively. Dealers were there early, to look for antiques and make decision about bidding.

Families came late in the morning, equipped with picnic baskets and prepared to make a day of it. While one parent mindod the youngsters the other scouted the displayed items, deciding what and how much.

Sentiment

Favorite items were glassware lamps and pewter. One woman bid on a table that had been in her home as a child and held sentimental value. Mr. Carlson was there, to buy some of his own things back for the same reasons. Mrs. John Hollingsworth of the Service Circle reports that by midafternoon the heavy pieces were going at low, low prices, and people were making arrangements to move bedroom and living room furniture to their own homes.

Buyers and browsers came from all over the state for the event. It is estimated that about 750 people were on hand during the sale, for which the auctioneers donated their services.

The auction served the double purpose of bringing people to the Rawhide grounds, for by having seen the project, the effort will seem more personal and community-wide.

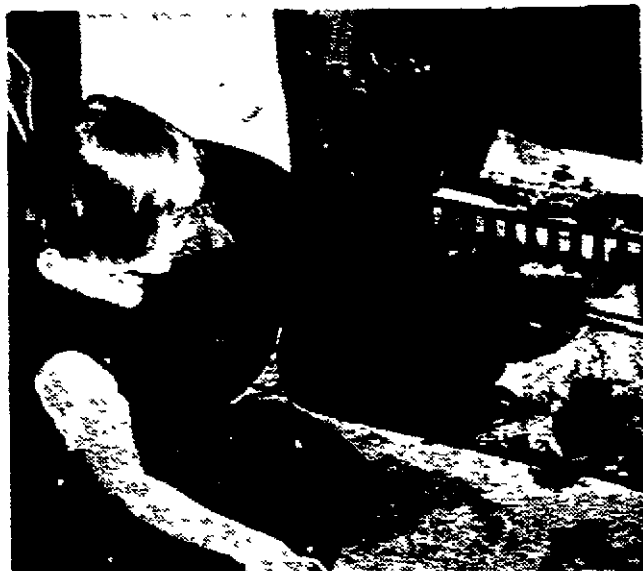

Plants, Lamps, Dressers, tables, chairs and you name it were all displayed for eager buyers and bidders Saturday on the grounds of Rawhide Inc., where the furnishings of the former owner were sold at auction. Above, late morning shoppers browsed and poked through the furniture, displayed on the lawn.

Norbert Krupka and two-month-old Joe took to the shade while Mrs. Krupka participated in the bidding on items sold at the Rawhide auction. Below, Laura Hollingsworth, Neenah, kept an eye on the pet rabbits temporarily housed in a fireplace.

Mrs. Melda E. Junion found a comfortable, well-padded resting spot during the all-day auction Saturday on the Rawhide grounds near New London. Below, auction visitors were reflected in a mirror as they browsed the grounds. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Modernized Museum

Staid Smithsonian Sacks Scholarly Snobbery; Sets Swinging Social Scene

By KELLY SMITH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Smithsonian Institution — by popular concept a staid, crusty old museum — is the capital's newest nightspot.

By day, some 10 million visitors a year wander the hallways of relics and artifacts. By night, the corridors tremble to beats of the Jerk, Watasi, and candle-light dinners and receptions.

"It's fantastic," says Meredith Johnson, whose duties as acting director of museum services now include protocol. "We're really swinging over here."

The man responsible is Dr. Sidney Dillon Ripley, the tall, bald scholar who used to do some fantastic things at Yale's Museum of Natural History. He once enlivened an exhibition of Egyptian treasures by hiring a performer to do an Egyptian folk dance, which turned out to be a belly dance.

Since February 1964, Ripley has been the head man at the 118-year-old Smithsonian.

Put to Use

He's initiated receptions, teas, luncheons, dinners, concerts, music on the mall — and even a black tie reception at the zoo.

Barely a day goes by without a social function somewhere in the Smithsonian realm. Usually, there are several.

It certainly draws the city's most familiar faces.

At the recent opera ball — one of the big social toasts to spring — there were some 20 ambassadors, half the Cabinet, a plane-load of New Yorkers, and much of the East Coast's wealth.

The ball was held in the Smithsonian's Museum of History and Technology at midnight.

Brought Trees

Forty trees were hauled in to decorate the corridors. Guards were hired to protect the guests' jewels. Exhibits were protected by rope barriers and Peter Duchen's orchestra was set up in the main hall, surrounded by glass-topped candlelit tables.

Alice Roosevelt Longworth, on the social scene for half a century, was delighted with the frenzied dances. Bill Moyers, over from the White House, did an energetic Frug. Lydia Katzenbach, whose husband runs the rest of Justice Department, and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, wife of the senator, were great with Watasi.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara danced a fast verted two-step with Ethel Kennedy. "Oh," said the tourist, "How then took her husband, Robert Kennedy, and Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., former ambassador to the Soviet Union, aside for consultations under the escalator.

Sent Home

Mrs. Rudolph E. Carter, wife of a State Department official, showed up wearing a peek-a-boo dress with a flesh-colored body stocking, the effect of which was spectacular.

She was told to go home and change, and did. But she came back, not to miss any of the fun.

As the last guests left the museum at 3 a.m., the building maintenance crews — some still wearing tuxedos — took over. By morning everything was back in order.

A few days later, Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, criticized use of the Smithsonian for the party.

"I was amazed and shocked that they had a $75 to $100 per ticket dance at the Smithsonian with the Rev. Moyers doing the Watasi and Frug and one woman sent home to get dressed because she was half naked," Gross said.

Moyers is an ordained Baptist minister.

The Smithsonian had no corry, was delighted with the frenzied dances.

A couple of trees were still in the corridors when tourists started coming in. One woman asked a guard where the rest of Justice Department, and Mrs. Edward M. Kennedy, wife of the senator, were great with Watasi.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara danced a fast verted two-step with Ethel Kennedy. "Oh," said the tourist, "How then took her husband, Robert Kennedy, and Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr., former ambassa-

Sometimes you can make your contract only if the cards are well placed for you. In such cases assume that you will be lucky — but don't ask for more luck than you really need.

South refused the first spade but took the second spade trick when East discarded a diamond. Declarer saw that he needed good luck in hearts, so led a heart and played the king from dummy. East took the ace and returned the queen of diamonds to dummy's ace.

Declarer cashed the queen of hearts and gave up a heart, hoping that East would have to win the trick. West took a heart and the rest of the spades, collecting 300 points when South should have scored 600 points.

South had to assume that the hearts would break 3-3 and that East would have the ace. This was enough to hope for. It wasn't also necessary to hope Mrs. Simon Quaintance, New that East would be forced to win the third round of hearts.

Safe to Duck

When South played the first heart and West played the seven, it was safe for South to duck instead of playing a high heart from dummy. East is sure to win the first heart because he cannot possibly stay under West's seven.

East wins with the eight of hearts and returns a diamond to the king. South leads his other heart, losing the king to the ace. East returns a diamond to dummy's ace, and declarer hopefully leads the queen of hearts from dummy.

The suit does break 3-3, and the rest of dummy's hearts are good. South makes game with three hearts, one spade, two diamonds and three clubs.

If West plays the ten of hearts on the first heart trick, South must put up dummy's king. East wins and returns a diamond to the king, and South leads another heart. If West plays the seven, declarer plays low from dummy and makes East win the trick. If West plays the jack, dummy wins and gives up the third trick to East.

Short Skirts Out For Oxford Coeds

OXFORD, England (AP) — The girls at Oxford have been ordered not to wear the currently fashionable short, short skirts under their academic gowns during examinations.

Said Dean Mary Proudfoot of Somerville, the women's colleges: "Short skirts are rather fun. But the girls would look incongruous in academic dress with skirts halfway up their thighs. The skirts might also take the men's minds off their exams."

Men and women undergraduates take their examinations together.

Once Beautiful Girl Claims World Lonely for 'Too' Lovely

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I got a letter from home I'd also get an eye-piercing headache. A few months ago I decided

Ann Landers

I tried desperately to achieve recognition for something besides my figure, but it was hopeless. My "assets," which so many girls envied (and so many boys lusted after), brought me nothing but trouble.

Thank God those wretched days are over. What a relief that my once spectacular figure has gone the way of too much flesh. Now I have friends who recognize that I have a bright mind, and a nice philosophy.

Believe me, Ann, it's a lonely world for the Too Beautiful. — One Who Was Dear One: It's a lonely world for the dogs, too — probably lonelier.

Can it be that you really developed your bright mind and your nice philosophy when you could no longer count on the external trappings? This sometimes happens and I'll bet it happened to you, Doll.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have a mother and two sisters who ran my life. They pushed me into a loveless marriage with a man who was too old for me. After 10 years of misery I somehow found the courage to take a stand against my family and get a divorce. The only good thing that came out of that marriage was a wonderful son. Two years after my divorce I married a marvelous man and we moved to another state. He has been a devoted husband and father and I now know the meaning of real contentment. I stayed away from my family for seven years. Their letters were filled with hostility and resentment. Every time I got a letter from home I'd also get an eye-piercing headache. A few months ago I decided when my mother and sisters suggested that I take the boy to see his father. In the 10 years that had passed the man had not tried, even once, to contact his son. Neither had he offered one penny toward the boy's support. Yet my family kept saying, "But he is the boy's father. . . ."

I refused to budge and a big fight followed. They said I was the meanest person who ever lived and crazy besides. What do you think about this? — Cinderella

Dear Cinderella: The decision to see or not to see your ex-husband is a decision you must make. The family should not have even mentioned his name. It is obvious that they learned nothing in those long seven years. The best thing that exists between you and your relatives is distance. Keep it that way.

Do you feel ill at ease. . . out of it? Is everybody having a good time but you? Write for Ann Landers' booklet, "The Key to Popularity," enclosing with your request 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope. (Copyright, 1966)

The Tiger-Striped pony in mid-heel height at left was shown when national fashion writers visited the Milwaukee County Zoo Friday for the Heritage Milwaukee preview of Kickerino boots. It has a black vinyl guard, square toe, squared flat heel and side zipper. Below, the geometric popularity of fashion shows up in white with a black vinyl pattern. At right, in the lion house, a model shows boots and matching stole of spun wool in gold, red, orange, brass green, gray and black with fringe on the scarf and a black leather boot guard.

Zoo Line Suggests Sure-Footed Winter

BY JEAN OTTO
Post-Crescent City's Editor

Kickerino showed its fall boots in the most appropriate of settings when it participated in the Heritage Milwaukee national fashion preview Friday. It's 'Zoo Line' was as animalistic as the lions and tigers at the Milwaukee County Zoo, which made frequent vocal comment during the show.

The Kickerino shoe boot ran the gamut of furry wild beasts in its fall designs. The firm, founded in 1942 by current president Gene Brin-dis, has had a lot of experience at designing high style boots, and in 1948 was the first American firm to put out a shoe boot. It has the knack of working with all the stretch fabrics, the calf finishes, including suede, printed leather and the new synthetic Corfam.

Broader at Toe
Boots next season will be broader at the instep and rounder at the toe. They retain the slim look, however, with skillful heel shaping and the use of design tricks.

The geometric pattern of dress fashion was noted in the line, as was the western look, carried over into cowboy boots that look like pony.

Boots are made for walking — and walk they will. Many have the weather proof corfam at heel and over the toe. The laced boot, drawn tight over instep and ankle, has a corfam toe and heel.

But it was the animal fabrics that drew interest. Wild in the fashion sense, the boots looked like tiger, giraffe, calf, panther, cheetah, and seal. Some have matching mittens and furry caps.

Heel heights range from very low to the inch-high walker and the higher but sturdier dress heel.

The firm has its headquarters in Milwaukee.

This Black and White pony boot has a cutaway style, with front lacing, squared toes and inch-high heel. The Kickerino boots were photographed at Heritage Milwaukee national press preview of fashions made by Wisconsin firms.

Allied Forces Pressed To Pull Out of Germany

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's wage-price guidelines may be headed for extensive alterations or the scrap heap.

That's the judgment of some labor-management relations experts who have good administration contacts.

Their opinions cannot be documented officially because the Johnson administration, until it has a better stabilization device to offer as a substitute, is bound to insist 3 1/2 per cent is now and ever shall be a reasonable, fair and noninflationary wage increase.

Nevertheless the search for a better device or a revised formula has begun. That's the job for which President Johnson recently revived the Labor-Management Advisory Committee. He asked its advice on how to "cope with the threat of inflation in an expanding economy."

Different Economies

Labor has repudiated the "voluntary" guideposts. In effect the guidelines impose a ceiling only on workers' wages, the unions say, while allowing price and corporation profits to soar. And some labor relations experts hold that a guideline policy which might work in a slack economy is unlikely to work in a full employment economy.

Can a better but still voluntary way be found—one acceptable to both labor and management?

Some clue may come June 3, when the 21-member committee—seven members each from industry, labor and the public—holds its second meeting in the offices of Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, the chairman.

A six-member working subcommittee—two leaders from each of the three sides—then will report on progress. They could come in emptyhanded. Conceivably, they might even report the present guidelines are the best approach they can think of.

Work Continues

But there are indications hard, sincere effort is being poured into the search by the unseen but influential six. Only the labor pair has been identified. They are AFL-CIO President George Meany and United Steelworkers President I. W. Abel. Presumably the management men have equal stature in industry; if they come up with an idea, they will be listened to.

Perhaps Meany and Abel will be the two men hardest to satisfy. Labor has come to feel it was sold an unintentional bill of goods when President John F. Kennedy posted the guideposts. Disillusionment came quickly. The steelworkers signed a settlement called "noninflationary" but the steel firms promptly raised their prices.

That set off the 1962 battle between Kennedy and Big Steel. The price hike was rescinded and industry leaders denounced the guidelines. Nobody loved them, but the expanding economy stayed stable for four years.

Record Profits

Now, in the fifth year of an unprecedented five-year boom, things have heated up. The price creep has become a trot and profits have set records.

As the guidelines have come to be interpreted, the gains in worker productivity over the past five years should have led to a wage guidepost increase from 3.2 per cent to 3.6 per cent this year.

But the White House is sticking to the 3.2 formula, even as the Labor Department reports the real spendable earnings of factory workers have declined over the past year because of price rises.

So the AFL-CIO has served notice it will hit henceforth for everything it can get, unless there is assurance of some effective restraint on prices and profits. That poses the threat of a real price-wage spiral unless the labor-management advisers bring in some bright ideas soon.

Deserted Bride-to-be Cannot Sue for Breach of Promise

All the wedding plans had already been made, but Tom Krush informed his fiancée, Marcia Manners, that the whole thing was off and that he was going to medical school.

Marcia had quit her job, sent out all the announcements (it was to have been a large affair), bought her bridal outfit and transferred the title to her car to Tom so that he could fix it up for their wedding trip.

Now that the wedding had been cancelled, Marcia was very hurt and embarrassed and had suffered financial losses besides. Can she get any sort of compensation from Tom?

As far as the embarrassment is concerned, she's out of luck. Since 1959, it has been impossible in Wisconsin to sue for breach of promise to marry. The legislature considered it wise, not too great, provided Tom to abolish such actions because, has some resources. Marcia's of the possibility that threats of grief, however, is her own. She suits could bring about marriage that should not be and wounded pride or for revenge.

Chuck Manteufel and Jo Johnson were crowned King and Queen Neptune by Alison Baker during Wilson Junior High's ninth grade party Friday evening.

Ninth graders are busily engaged in ending their junior high careers and preparing for high school. Among end of the year activities are farewell parties at which students formally bid goodbye to teachers and classmates before parting for the summer.

Wilson and Einstein Junior Highs held their farewell parties Friday evening.

Einstein Junior High, ending its first year, used a city skyline in its decorating scheme. Those who worked on the committee were Debby Mendelsohn, Dan Chevalier, Mike Keane, Ann DeWall, Tom Jones, Sue Hanstadt, Tom Wolfe, Karen McCleery, Jeff Klapper, George Heinz, Linda Helling, Debby Otteson, Sue Pollack, Sue Miller, Jackie Van Leur, Sue Beck, Eileen Knox, Tom Pritzel and Mike Gosz. Karen Halverson and Peggy Pike had charge of publicity; Gary Bleier and Scott Engmanston, tickets; Mike Keane and Ann DeWall, refreshments, and Sue Pollack and Karen McCleery, chaperones.

Junior High. During the evening a King and Queen Neptune were crowned. Blue and green prevailed in the gym, set up to look like an ocean.

Committee chairmen were Sue Loeke, decorations; Larry Hauschildt, music; Alison Baker, advertising; Georgia Weisler, refreshments, and Hilary Ziven, tickets.

As the evening ended, sentimental students tucked bits of the decorations into purses and pockets, one of the last souvenirs of their junior high years.

The Ailing House Butterflies On Wall a Nuisance

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q: I cut out butterflies and glued them to the bathroom walls as decorations, using liquid cement. Now I want to redecorate, so I have to remove them. I have tried various things to soften the glue, but with no success.

A: Since you're going to repaint anyway, try paint remover, working along the edges. By removing the paint underneath, the butterflies will naturally take off.

Q: We bought a fairly old (30 years old) farmhouse. It looks more ancient than it really is, because the walls are covered with wallpaper over that early version of dry wall known as beaverboard. While I plan to put plywood or hardboard paneling over this in the living room dining rooms, what about the kitchen, halls and bathroom? Can I paint? Can I put on that self-adhering type of contact paper?

A: Painting will be OK, but only after you've thoroughly sized the beaverboard. You can do this with regular varnish size, a few coats of pure, fresh shellac, or aluminum paint. No particular preparation is needed for the self-adhering, plastic-surfaced paper.

Q: My exterior siding is hardboard, exterior grade. Four years ago I had the house painted. Now it is beginning to peel here and there, not too much now, but I'm looking ahead and I'd like to find a more durable paint.

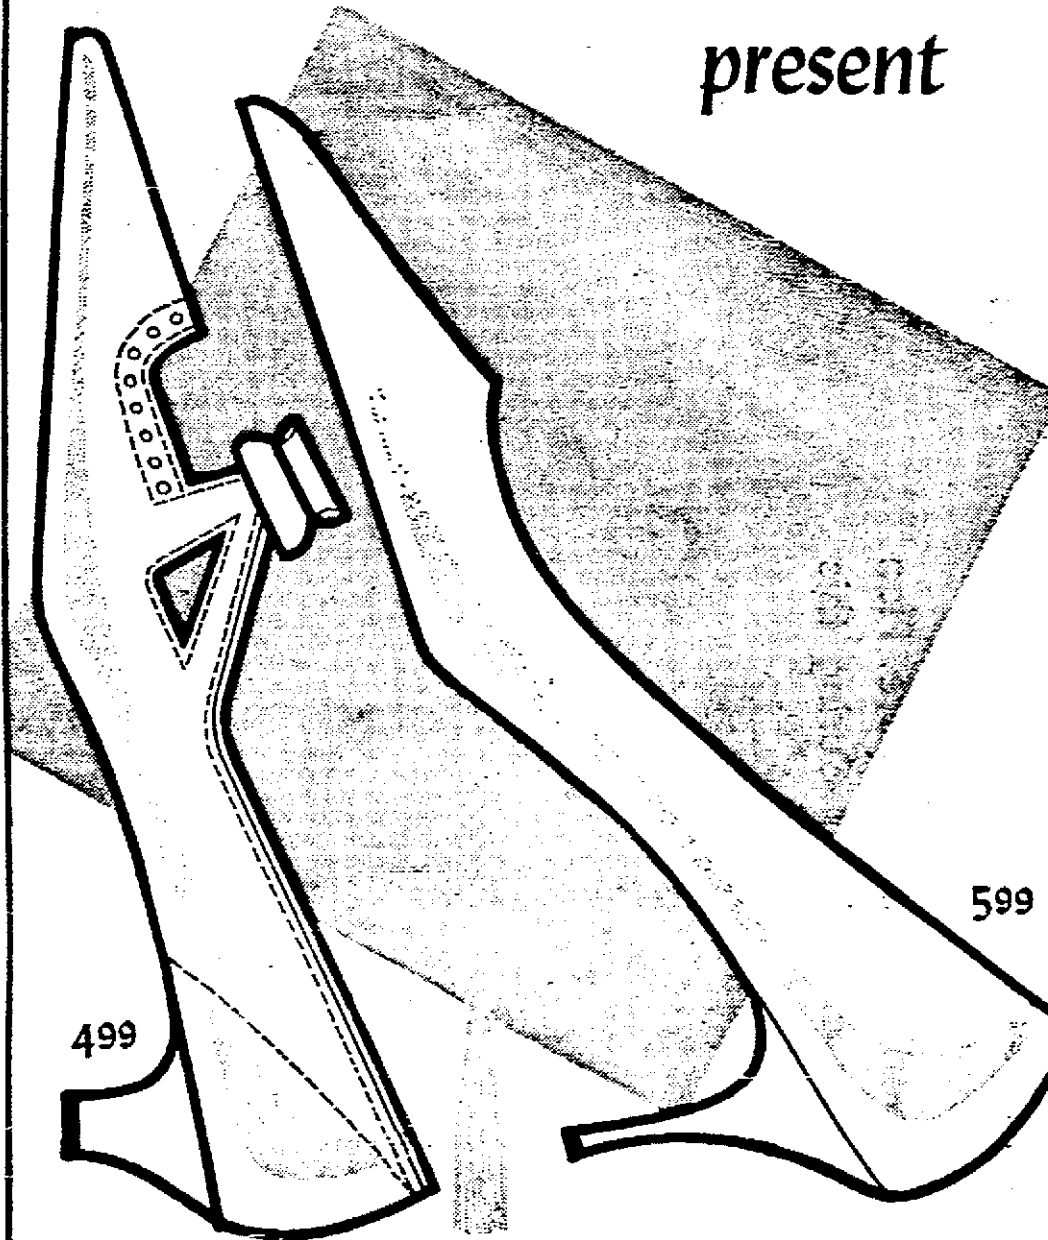

A: You really didn't do so badly with the paint you now have. True, you might expect a few more years from the highest quality paint, put on with experience, skill and pride. But four years isn't too bad a performance at all. Any top quality house paint can be used on hardboard.

Q: In our living room there is a crack in the plaster wall, running from the top of the archway between the kitchen and living room clear up to the ceiling. It isn't wide, but it certainly looks terrible. Can I repair this myself?

A: This is a perfectly possible repair, easy even though you've never tried this type of job. Spackle and a putty knife are the only tools. Mix the compound (it's like a plaster) into a fairly stiff paste and simply spread it over the crack, using the putty knife. Do this several times to make sure some gets worked inside the crack. Smooth it level, and when it has dried, you can go ahead and repaint. Spackle is available at any paint or hardware store, and the simple directions are on the box.

Women Take Over Reins Of Central Park Carriages

NEW YORK (AP) — Susanna Davy and Toni Rhoades are two of the unlikely members of the Central Park carriage trade that a nag could imagine. They talk to horses.

The attractive young ladies are working as drivers of the hansom cabs that transport sightseers around the park.

While the reins on these rigs are traditionally handled by men, there have been no complaints thus far about the feminine invasion — either from the horses or the men.

Miss Rhoades, 19, a Barnard College freshman, has been driving a four-wheeled Victoria for a little over a week.

Chatted With Owner
She got the job because she has the habit of talking to horses. The last time she stopped to chat the horse's owner happened to be Fred Birkner, her present employer.

She said. She intends to work through the summer after going home to Charlottesville for a visit at the end of the term.

Pink-cheeked Susanna Davy is the veteran of the two, having driven for Birkner about seven months. The 20-year-old English girl grew up on a farm in the north of England and has been driving "all my life."

"Royal Carriage"
"I've been with animals and riding horses since I was very small," Susanna said. She wears the traditional black silk topper as she works on her carriage which "used to belong to the Swedish royal family."

The girls receive 50 per cent of what they earn. Fares vary from $5 to $7, depending on the length of the trip.

"I told Mr. Birkner I love horses and that I used to ride roadster horses in Virginia," she said. She intends to work through the summer after going home to Charlottesville for a visit at the end of the term.

Some thirty years ago, Percy Hammond, a famous drama critic, wrote: "The female knee is a joint and not an entertainment."

Times have changed! Today's who aren't blessed by nature with beautiful knees can improve their looks through regular exercise and good grooming. To firm up thighs, knees and legs, here are three easy exercises to try. (They're more fun if you do them to music with a beat.)

High-Stepping
Drum Major. Stand straight, holding on to a chair at your side. Bend your left knee and raise it as far up to the chest as you can. Lower your leg and do the same with your right knee. Alternate briskly, pretending you are leading the Rose Bowl Parade.

Skywriting. Lie flat on your back on the floor. Flex your left knee, keeping the left foot planted on the floor. Bend and raise your right leg and with your toes nicely pointed, write your name in the air. Then reverse legs writing with your left. (No cheating, please, write your full name.)

Pendulum Swing. Stand up straight and hold on to a chair at your side for balance. Keeping both knees straight, swing your left leg forward as high as you can without bending. Then swing the left leg backward, keeping the knee whip it to the right leg, forward and back, have on hand to serve with a steady as a metronome.

Grooming Routines
Along with exercise goes good defrost.

Imaginative Dash

Sometimes when cream is served with coffee at a party, there's cream leftover in the refrigerator. You may want to taste and freeze it to the dessert. At serving time, offer the cream frozen or let it

To beautify legs and knees follow four basic routines. Two are weekly; two, daily. Defuzz legs weekly with a razor or depilatory. If you use a razor, take a tip from the men and apply a lather shave to make the job easier.

Follow-up defuzzing with a creamy lotion to satinate the skin. Nightly for knees: Give them a beauty treatment while you sleep. Before bedtime, apply a special-formula hand cream, that penetrates deep to soften and smooth away roughness and dryness.

Treat your knees as you would your face. Daily, apply hand and body lotion to knees and legs. If you'll be bare-legged or wearing sheer stockings, powder the knees lightly and apply a bit of blusher for a rosy accent.

Now, who said knees aren't new?

Both issued official invitations to single women—the mayor through official channels to all the other town halls of France, the priest to other churches. DAILY NEWSPAPERS are a GROWTH BUSINESS

It takes more people to publish today's newspapers

*Any growing business needs more people...
Newspapers are one of the fastest growing businesses in the U.S. today!*

An average of 20,000 men and women now enter America's burgeoning labor force each week. From 1947 through 1963 the nation's economy absorbed 11 million additional workers. Total employment increased 19% in 16 years.

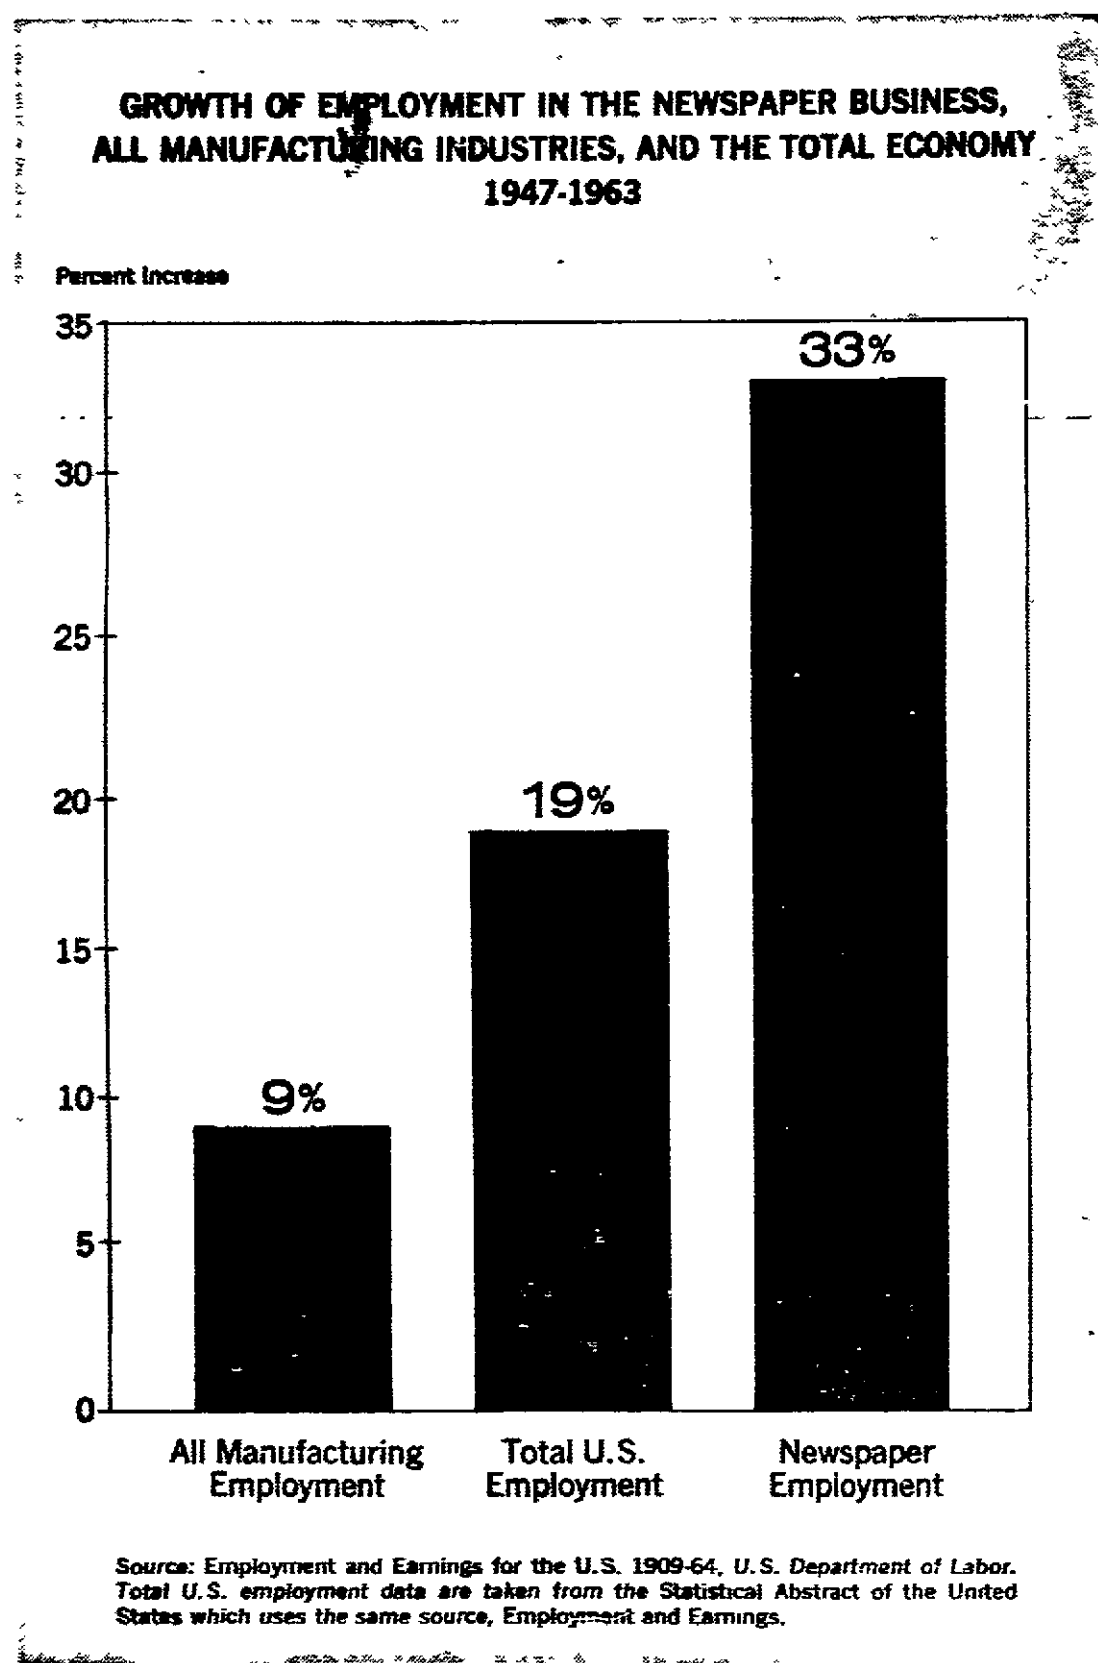

During the same years employment in the daily newspaper business increased by 33% ... to more than 329,000. By comparison, employment in all manufacturing industries rose by 9%, in retail and wholesale trade, 29%. Employment in the transportation industries dropped by 5% and in mining by 33%.

Increase in staff is but one reflection of the overall growth of daily newspapers since the end of World War Two. This growth is also reflected by marked increases in every other significant index—circulation, news content, advertising, newsprint consumption...and all are still growing.

Newspapers are growing for one reason: Only the newspaper covers the news fully and in depth. There is no substitute for the daily newspaper.

For more information on why daily newspapers are a growth business, write for a free copy of the new booklet, "The Growth of the American Daily Newspaper," an economic analysis published by the University of Wisconsin.

Summer Job Outlook Brighter for Teen-Agers

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Job prospects for teen-agers this summer will be the brightest in more than a decade. The nation's over-all unemployment rate is slated to sink to a low 3.5 per cent in June and the teen-age unemployment rate, says the Labor Department, "will probably decline substantially" from last summer's levels.

The forces behind the striking turnaround in the summer job

Dirksen Says Action Promised on Measure To Allow School Prayer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen says he has promised committee action on his proposed constitutional amendment to permit voluntary prayers in public schools.

Dirksen said Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., had agreed to call together soon the Senate Judiciary Committee he heads to consider the proposal. The amendment is designed to counter a Supreme Court ruling against mandatory prayers in schools.

On another topic, Dirksen said he will ask for further hearings on a controversial packaging and labeling bill now scheduled for Senate action next week. The measure, supported by the administration, provides for government regulation of labeling of packages sold in grocery and drug stores in an effort to compare products.

has appealed to these and other groups to help find an extra one million jobs and trainee positions for needy young people this summer.

If you do not need the money, consider a non-paying volunteer job which can offer valuable work experience and training and add up to an important plus in future job applications. Or devote your time to a constructive "non-job," an educational, cultural trip, a scientific experiment, work on a serious hobby.

The fundamental point which you should not downgrade is that "investing" this summer in your own future easily may bring you a long range profit dwarfing the dollars you could earn between June and September.

(Copyright, 1966)

picture are indisputably powerful and pervasive. The economy's upsurge has turned labor surpluses into labor shortages in a mounting number of occupations and areas and U.S. employers are now reaching into the ranks of previously "marginal" groups such as Negroes, teen-agers older workers. The Viet Nam war is siphoning off tens of thousands of young men each month, men who would otherwise be competing for civilian jobs this summer. Rapidly expanding Federal anti-dropout programs are providing special education and training for record numbers of youngsters who would otherwise be crowding into the labor market.

But despite the fact that this summer's job prospects will be the brightest since the early 1950's, just how "bright" is bright? Look behind the generalities and this shadier picture emerges.

Even despite the encouraging drop in the teen-age unemployment rate from the explosive 16.8 per cent level of last June, one in eight teen-agers right now still is not finding a job.

10 Per Cent Jobless

Even at the peak teen-age employment period this summer, an estimated one in 10 still may not find jobs and the percentage will be grimmer for young teen-agers and Negroes. This is in the face of all the efforts being made to train and employ youngsters and the spreading labor shortages.

For obvious reasons, employers this summer will give priority to applicants with previous experience or special training to fill available jobs. They will favor those who can be trained for jobs where they'll stay put over those seeking just temporary work.

They will re-train and upgrade less skilled employees for better jobs and loosen mandatory retirement policies. Among unskilled job-seekers, they will tend to give preference to adult Negroes, women, handicapped workers and the recently retired.

Employers also will continue to schedule more overtime and extra work shifts to keep up with expanding production schedules. They'll be tapping every available source of experienced temporary help and experienced part-time workers.

Thus, as in previous summers, the unskilled teen-ager again will be at the bottom of the employment barrel, even though the barrel is not as deep as it has been in recent summers.

Volunteer Work

What, then, would be constructive advice for the teen-ager who'll be looking for a job with pay this summer?

If you need the money to continue school or to help support your family, seek advice and help of local businesses, unions, government agencies, schools. President Johnson

Wisconsin's Health

Blood Testing Points Out Hazard of Drinking Driver

BY E. H. JORRIS M. D.
State Health Officer

For decades the State Board of Health has dedicated itself to providing services to prevent disease, prolong life, and enhance the physical and mental well being of the people of Wisconsin. The charge to "prolong life" is deeply involved when more than a thousand lives are snuffed out each year by motor vehicle accidents on our state's highways. Approach of the season's first long weekend holiday accents the problem.

The Wisconsin Motor Vehicle Department believes that a 4-point program would go far toward solving this needless loss of life. These recommendations suggest the need for enactment of new laws or strengthening of present laws in the fields of (1) driver education, (2) motor vehicle inspection, (3) driver re-examination, and (4) an "implied consent" law. "Implied consent" means that a driver, when he accepts his driver's license, has given his consent to a scientific breath or urine test if charged with driving while under the influence of an intoxicant. (Should he refuse such a test his driving privilege would be temporarily suspended.)

Accident reports show increasing evidence of drinking by accident-involved drivers. "Had been drinking" has become the second most important contributing factor in fatal traffic accident occurrence.

The person who insists that "I can handle liquor, it doesn't affect me because I've built up a tolerance for it," is deluding only himself. Studies have shown that just a few drinks impair judgement and reactions enough to prevent adequate control of an automobile. The Scandinavian countries recognize a much lower alcohol blood concentration as impairing one's ability to drive than do most of our states. The Swedish believe that deterioration of the driving function sets in at about 0.035 per cent alcohol in the blood. For the average person this would amount to 1.5 ounces of whiskey or two bottles of beer. In contrast, in Wisconsin a level of 0.15 per cent of blood alcohol is considered prima facie evidence of intoxication. Translated to consumption, this would amount to about a half pint of whiskey or 10 beers.

During 1965, at the request of the Motor Vehicle Department tested blood samples of 161 drivers killed in highway accidents. No blood alcohol was detected in 53 tests; six showed percentages from 0.01 to 0.05; seven had tests of 0.06 to 0.09 per cent. But 20 drivers showed an alcohol concentration in the blood of 0.10 to 0.14 per cent, and 5 of the tests, nearly half, showed levels of 0.15 per cent or more!

These figures attest to the need for some legal means to protect the innocent.

Badgers 4th In Big Ten All-Sports

MADISON (AP) — University of Wisconsin athletic teams placed fourth in the Big Ten's all-round sports championship, with eight of 12 varsity teams in the first division.

This makes the fifth straight year that overall sports program has ranked in the first division.

The Wisconsin indoor track squad finished highest of the school's teams with a second place behind Michigan State, while golfers moved up two notches to finish third this season.

The tennis team ranked fifth up from last year's eighth, while the gymnastics, baseball and basketball teams finished sixth, seventh and seventh respectively. The football team tied for seventh.

Michigan State placed first in overall Big Ten standings.

Gordy Reportedly Offered Sizeable Pact by AFL Club

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Diles, sports director of WXYZ here, said Wednesday "an American Football League team" has offered Detroit Lion guard John Gordy a lucrative contract and promise of a future coaching job.

Diles said in a broadcast that the long-term offer would amount to nearly $200,000. He did not name the team.

He said Gordy, 30, an offensive guard, told him he had discussed the matter with an AFL team representative, but would make no further comment.

Gordy has not signed his 1966 contract, thus could play out his option this year and go to the AFL in 1967.

Pressure Tank Tests Used on Soviet Olympians

MOSCOW (AP) — Members of the Soviet Olympic team are undergoing pressure-chamber tests to determine their reaction to the high altitude of Mexico City it became known Wednesday.

During the past month 40 athletes have been placed in a special chamber that produced atmospheric conditions like those in Mexico City where the 1968 Olympic Games will be held. They were kept inside for periods of 1 1/2 hours.

A Soviet sports source said a few minor ill effects were noticed. The tests reportedly will be given to all the members of the Soviet team, expected to number about 400.

Terrors, Ghosts in Class A Sectional At Green Bay East

Manitowoc Rated Favorite to Take Team Title From Appleton

Nine schools, including Appleton and Kaukauna, will invade Green Bay East Stadium Friday in quest of coveted Class A state track meet berths.

The Green Bay sectional gets under way at 4:45 p.m. with the field events and trial heats of running events.

The top two placers in each event will qualify for the June 4 state meet in Monona Grove. On the basis of their performances to date, AHS, Kaukauna and Manitowoc appear likely to qualify the most individuals or relay units and to battle it out for the unofficial team crown.

AHS, which has won three straight sectional titles, yields the favorite's role to Manitowoc, which has won the Fox River Valley Conference indoor title, and the FRVC relays crown.

The Terrors finished second in the relays, third in the indoor meet and fifth in the FRVC outdoor test.

Places Second

Kaukauna, with its strongest team in years, placed second to Neenah in both the Midwestern Conference meet and the M-E relays.

Other entries will be Green Bay East, West and Preble; Shawano; Two Rivers and Marinette.

The only defending sectional champion will be Manitowoc's Greg Gretz, who won both the shot put and the discus last year.

Gretz also took the discus title in the recent FRVC meet in Green Bay. Other FRVC champs who'll be in action Friday are Appleton's Tom Maves (880) and Gerard Hendricks (440) and Mandy's Mike Ciesler (long jump).

The only M-E champ due to compete in Green Bay will be Kaukauna's Paul Kiffe, who captured 220-yard run honors.

Owners File Suit When Horse Dies After Collision

CHICAGO (AP) — A $300,000 damage suit was filed in district court Wednesday by owners of a thoroughbred race horse that died following a collision with another at Arlington Park.

Moody and Dorothy Jolley of Hialeah, Fla., said in the suit that their horse, Adzum, was struck by another horse, Jim Dooley, owned by Hugh Grant of Bradford, Pa., during a workout Friday.

The suit, filed against the Chicago Thoroughbred Enterprises and Grant, claims that the track did not exercise caution in permitting Jim Dooley to leave the starting gate while Adzum was in the area.

Adzum's death, the suit contends, resulted in Jolley losing money which the horse might have won in races and stud fees.

Von Eps Also Raps 4-Bagger

BY TERRY GALVIN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Just a little dab of madness went a helluva long way at Goodland Field late Tuesday evening.

Somewhat perturbed by a called strike leading off the 11th inning, Grover W. (Deacon) — to his friends — Jones retaliated on the 1-1 pitch, a curve ball, and when last seen it was easily clearing the right field fence to give the Fox Cities Foxes a 2-1 triumph over Waterloo.

But Jones wasn't the only Foxes' hero in the spine-tingling affair that saw 13 Waterloo baserunners stranded in the 11-inning rumble and only 19 players, one over the limit, get into action.

Field General

Catcher Bob Von Eps, the Foxes' scrappy field general, claimed his share of the accolades with a solo homer in the fifth inning, while his battery-mate, Fred Rath, went the full 11 frames in racking up victory No. 5 in six decisions.

Today is another day though, and Fox Cities and Waterloo will be at it again come 8 p.m.

The Foxes' master strategist, Stan Waslak, has nominated Andy Ruble (1-1) for the starting assignment, while Waterloo manager Dave Philley is hoping Jerry Janeski (0-2) can halt the Foxes' 5-game success string.

But while the Foxes boosted their Midwest League winning streak to five games, all was not pleasant. Foxes' second sacker Al Kristowski saw his 12-game hitting skein broken when he failed to connect in four trips. Kristowski nearly extended his string in the 10th, but a leaping catch by Waterloo shortstop Bill Gardner prevented same.

Fifth Homer

For Jones, the Foxes' batting coach and clubhouse philosopher, it was the fifth home run of the season. The Deacon was also thrown out in the eighth, attempting to stretch a double to three bases, but the two hits hiked his campaign batting average to .326.

Von Eps brought roars of approval from most of the 474 fans in the fifth inning when he

Wisconsin Lutheran Trackmen Beat FVL

Fox Valley Lutheran High School dropped its final dual track meet of the season to Wisconsin Lutheran here Wednesday, 72-46, to finish with a 4-2 mark.

The Foxes will officially end the season Saturday when they compete in the Midwest Prep Conference meet in Milwaukee.

The Vikings were aided in their victory by a trio of triple winners, a slam of the high hurdles, and one-two finishes in the 220 and low hurdles.

Cliff Gross copped first in both weight events, Jim Claffey won the high and low hurdles and Greg Mann took the 100 and 220.

Only four of the 14 firsts went to the Foxes. Darrow Mallmann had one of his best heights of the campaign (10-6) to win the pole vault. FVL's mile relay team broke the record it has set several times this year with a clocking of 4:02.4.

Jim Witt and Bill Peterson combined for eight points in the quarter mile with times of :57.5 and :58.3, both good showings on the slow Fox Valley cinder track. The only other blue ribbon went to Eugene Schabo, who finished 10 seconds ahead of his nearest challenger in the mile.

The Foxes lost a possible first in the low hurdles, when the number one man, Mallmann, fell over the last hurdle. He and the eventual winner, Claffey, were stride for stride at the last obstacle, when a gust of wind held

Expect Fish To be Hitting This Weekend

All Species Except Musky Reported to Be on Active Side

MADISON (AP) — Wisconsin conservation wardens are passing the word that almost all species of fish will be biting this weekend better than any time this spring.

The weekly Conservation Department report said today that Appleton's three high schools' "Today, you have great opportunities," Jones told the Appleton High. Fox Valley Lutheran and Xavier athletes who were guests of the Appleton Downtown Kiwanis Club. "Laziness of mind and body may tell you there is no opportunity."

The white bass run has been outstanding along the Wolf River near Omro, Eureka, Fremont and Gill's Landing, the report said.

This weekend may be the peak of walleye action, it said, with the big ones biting especially well in Rusk, Sawyer and Bayfield counties.

Anglers were likely to find many northerns in Waukesha County lakes, Lake Wausau and the big Eau Claire flowage in Marathon County.

Black bass were giving good sport in southern and central waters, especially in Calumet, Vernon and Shawano counties.

Trout fishing was reported good or better in about 35 counties. The best streams were listed as the Wolf, Oconto, Popple, Pine in Richland County and Ten-Mile Creek in Wood County.

Education Key to Door of Opportunity, Athletes Told

'Deacon' Jones Talks at Fete Honoring High School Seniors

BY JOHN L. PAUSTIAN
Post-Crescent Sports Editor

Education is the key to the door of opportunity, the Fox Cities Foxes' Grover (Deacon) Jones told senior athletes of Appleton's three high schools Wednesday.

"Today, you have great opportunities," Jones told the Appleton High. Fox Valley Lutheran and Xavier athletes who were guests of the Appleton Downtown Kiwanis Club. "Laziness of mind and body may tell you there is no opportunity."

The Foxes player-coach emphasized that success is not a matter of luck and "pull." "That is the thinking of unresponsive individuals who want something to take refuge in."

"This closes just one chapter in your lives," Jones told the seniors. "Another chapter will begin soon, and I hope many of you will further your education."

Jones advised that unless young athletes are fortunate enough to get big bonuses, they should go on to college first and go into pro careers later. Even those who get large bonuses should go to school in the off-season, he said.

Jones also stressed the importance of perseverance. He said his favorite example is Herb Score, former Cleveland pitching ace. After being incapacitated by a line drive in the eye, Score vowed to return to the majors. And, he made it, said Jones, even though Herb was never again as good as he was prior to the accident.

"Just exert a little more effort," the veteran player urged his listeners.

Pick Whipple Badger Track Captain in '67

MADISON (AP) — Steve Whipple, Big Ten quarter-mile champion, has been named captain of Wisconsin's 1967 track team.

The announcement was made at an annual banquet honoring the track team Wednesday night.

Whipple holds conference titles in both indoor and outdoor 440 events. The La Crosse junior was also named most improved track performer in the past season for education, Jones told.

Ken Latigo-Olal, a middle distance runner, was named the team's most valuable member after winning the indoor 880 yard event for the second year in a row. Latigo-Olal is a pre-medicine student from Uganda.

The Walter Deike Trophy, awarded to the outstanding distance runner, went to Highland Park, Ill., senior James Weinert. It marked the second straight year he won the trophy.

Discus Mark Tops Record in State

PLYMOUTH — Joe Ule, of Plymouth High School, hurled the discus 178 feet 8 inches in the Eastern Wisconsin Conference track meet Wednesday for a new record.

Ule's toss also is the best ever recorded in the state. The state record is held by Don Hendrickson, of Green Bay West, who tossed the discus 174 feet 2 inches.

Records are classed as state marks only if they are achieved in the state meet.

Dave Nicholson Leads Houston to 7-1 Win With Four Base Hits

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two weeks before he was fired as Houston general manager, Paul Richards decided to make a trade to bolster the Astros' Oklahoma City farm club, purchasing Dave Nicholson from the Chicago White Sox.

It was a big mistake. Nicholson hasn't done a thing for Oklahoma City.

But Nicholson has been doing something for the Astros, a thing or two with National League pitching, raising his average to .333 Wednesday night when he led the Astros to a 7-1 victory over the New York Mets by collecting a homer, a double, two singles, driving in two runs and scoring twice.

Ticketed for Oklahoma City during spring training, Nicholson cut down on the swing that brought him four major league strikeout records and a .203 lifetime batting average, started to connect more often and grabbed a job with the Astros.

Became Famous

The 6-foot-2, 215-pound strong-boy originally was signed by Richards when he was Baltimore's general manager. He soon became famous — for his prodigious homers and his prolific strikeout total. And he moved on to Chicago.

Now with his curtailed swing and a heavier bat — 36 ounces instead of 34 to restrain his swing — Nicholson has worked his way into the line-up.

"He has done it all himself," said Houston Manager Grady Hatton. "I just told him to forget the home runs, just hit the ball."

Nicholson has followed orders. He has collected 25 hits in 75 at bats for his .333 average, taken over fifth place in the National League batting race and still displayed power with 4 doubles, 2 triples and 3 homers.

Hits Grand Slam

Elsewhere, Curt Flood rapped the biggest hit of the night, a grand slam homer as St. Louis' chubbied the Chicago Cubs 9-1. Pittsburgh edged San Francisco 3-2, the Los Angeles Dodgers nipped Philadelphia 2-1 and Cincinnati defeated Atlanta 6-2.

Nicholson triggered a two-run second inning for the Astros with his double, drove in a run with a single in the third inning and hit a solo homer in the sixth, giving John Bateman also homered for Houston. That was more than enough support for Larry Dierker, who stopped the Mets on five hits.

Flood capped a seven-run seventh inning uprising for the Cardinals after Bob Tolson had put them ahead 2-1 in the fifth inning with a run-producing single. Flood's grand slam followed. Coach Dick Emanuel has loved a two-run pinch-hit single by Bob Skinner and a wild pitch picked the Terrors: Steve Winter, Jim Berkvam, Ollie Champeau, John Gall and Art Zulger.

Former Mates

Matty Alou and Manny Mota Zulger, turned on their former San Francisco teammates, slamed the 15-school field will be mingling homers in the third in Kaukauna and Kimberly. The leading teams and individuals will compete in the state Roy Face combined to check golf meet June 34 in West the Giants on four hits, although Bend.

Eight Such Installations Now

All-Weather Layouts Help State Regain Stature in Track and Field

By BOB WILLIAMS
Of The Beloit Daily News

DELAVAN (AP) — Wisconsin long a laggard in high school track and field, is beginning to catch up with its sister states. One reason may be the installation of all-weather, macadamized tracks at a growing number of public high schools. The tracks seem to be producing times as good or better than those recorded in Illinois and Minnesota.

Wisconsin now boasts eight such installations, including Delavan - Darien school track records and nine Southern Lake Conference records have gone into the books.

The very first time, Delavan-Darien hosted the nine team conference meet in May 1963. Five records fell with the mile standard bettered by 10 seconds.

Many rival schools now prefer to charter a bus to the home field of the Comets and run on a first-class track than stay at home and run on cinders.

Monona Grove was the first Wisconsin school to install an all-weather track and the WIAA state A, B and C meets have been held there at one time or another during the past eight years.

It is the only school ever to host all three classes in a single year.

Shows Up Clearly

The impact of the new tracks shows up most clearly in the record books.

Six Class A records, seven in Class B and four in Class C were established on surfaces similar to those that will be straight Masters' golf tournaments, also won the April poll.

Records aren't automatic, but the nation's sports writers and competent coaches claim that the surface is worth a minimum for every lap of the 440-yard track.

And athletes obviously prefer the man-made track to cinders. The cushiony surface makes Russell of the Boston Celtics second with 144 and Sam McDowell of the Cleveland Indians third with 118.

Previous 1966 winners were Bobby Hull, Ken Venturi and Dick Weber.

Agee's Circus Catch Aids Sox

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
CHICAGO (AP) — Eddie Stanky relaxed in his manager's room at Comiskey Park Wednesday night, relishing the Chicago White Sox' second victory in their last 10 games.

Most of the talk centered around center fielder Tom Agee's stunning catch of Brooks Robinson's lead-off smash in the 9th inning that had home run written all over it.

Agee raced back to the 415-foot marker on the bullpen fence, reached up and stabbed the shot with one hand. He had his back to the fence and had to reach slightly over it to make the catch.

It preserved a 3-2 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Sox pitchers Eddie Fisher and John Buzhardt, in the bullpen at the time, said they thought Agee was a yard or so in front of the fence when he made the catch and it wouldn't have gone for a homer if he'd missed.

"There is no doubt in my mind the ball would have gone over," said Stanky. "But if you guys (newsmen) want to make something of it, let's call in Agee."

Agee appeared in the doorway. "I reached up and caught the ball," he said. "I bumped the fence after I made the catch. It would have gone over for a Sam Bowers rapped a single off John and Stanky strode to the mound. The crowd of 14,000 booed as knuckleballer Fisher Cater's bunt permitted one run was summoned to replace John. And pitcher Steve Barber's balk Fisher struck out pinch-hitter brought in another as the Sox Curt Blefary to end the game.

"I felt pretty good, but Stanky told me the percentages favored bringing in Fisher with his knuckler," said John.

Stanky smiled. "That's the first time in my life I've ever been booed. Now, if you can swallow that I'll tell you that I would rather have a fresh knuckleballer pitching than a tired Tommy John with a heart of a lion."

MADISON — The waters of Lake Michigan and Wisconsin tributary streams may soon offer a trout fishery for sports fishermen rivaling the famous fishing in Canadian waters, according to an enthusiastic report presented to the state conservation commission Wednesday.

Charles Lloyd, head of the state fisheries division, exultantly related the success of rainbow trout stocking in Lake Michigan during recent years following the long campaign to eliminate the predatory sea lamprey.

The stocked trout are thriving beyond expectations, and one of the evident factors in their survival and fast growth is their feeding on the abundant alewives, relatively new migrants to the lake and otherwise useless because they have no commercial value.

4-Pound Trout
Lloyd displayed a frozen 4-pound rainbow trout taken from Lake Michigan recently, and laid it on the table before the commissioners as he proudly related the evidence of the successful introduction of rainbows in the waters off Door County and several counties to the south.

He said fish stocked at a size of nine to 12 inches have grown at unusually rapid rates, most at 22 to 26-inch size in a 3-year period.

Lloyd said the dispersal of the fish has also been remarkably successful. Some of them have been found in the Wisconsin tributary streams, which leads nan. CAMPERS-TRAILER OWNERS
AND NATURE LOVERS

How often have you yearned for a nice large lake lot in a PRIMEVAL forest to have for a weekend retreat, vacation, or year round home? That you only to be told by the developer that they are restricted and can allow only modern permanent homes. We have heard this story too often. If you are really interested in a change of all this, PLEASE READ OUR TRUE STORY. We have found a large complex of land and water in the "North Country" of Wisconsin, consisting of a lake with over 25,000 ft. of undeveloped shoreline, and having over 1,200 acres of beautiful PRIVATE HIGH-LAND FOREST surrounding the lakeshore. THIS IS NOT ALL... as the famous PINE RIVER with over 14,000' of CANOEING and TROUT FISHING waters, are also on this fabulous tract of land. This lovely clear water lake, with two inlets and an outlet is "loaded" with Walleyes. The area abounds in wildlife. We are able to offer this priceless Lakeshore Forest area to the 1st ONE HUNDRED families that apply this season. The unheard of price of ONLY $200 ANNUAL LEASE PER YEAR. Renewable option is provided. You will receive a 100' x 100' PRIVATE LAKE- SHORE SITE, plus a condominium leasehold interest in all the river frontage and a 1/2 acre of forest to "help" it. IF THIS TRUE STORY INTERESTS YOU, drop us a note, call us, or come and see it all at the State Fair and Conspin Office, to discuss the private details of this unusual and rare opportunity. A full set of colored maps and a brochure in October of 1955 are on hand for showing. OWNER ON PREMISES MAY 28 THRU 30 JUNE 1-4. WE WOULD ASSIST YOU IN PICKING YOUR OWN LAKE SHORE SITE. Write for appointment.

Importance of Testimony Forces Tests for Truth

The tests of truth and relevance which courts apply are But we do these things in court, stricter than those which we use. Why is that? Because we in daily life. As a rule we don't think of everything that takes place in a courtroom is important. Your property, your person, your civil rights — even cannot bring back and ask a your family's welfare or your dead man whether he signed a will or whether the accused killed a man. We cannot re-do a murder. We can only get the truth of testimony in court. Eager as courts are for facts, their tests fall short of those of science. When a scientist doubts the outcome of an experiment, he need not rely upon somebody else's word. He just repeats the experiment in question. But not so in court. The acts told of in court cannot be lived over again. For example, you witness under oath on pain of penalties for lying. Another is that we cross-examine the witness. The relevancy test is still clients and to the court, to see, He does this when the testi-

Turncoat Plans To Return to United States

Two Korean War Defectors Remain in Communist China

HONG KONG (AP) — Korean War turncoat Clarence Adams arrived in Hong Kong today leaving only two of 21 self-exiled former American prisoners of war in Communist China.

Adams, from Memphis, Tenn., crossed the Lowu border bridge 23 miles north of the city with his Chinese wife and their children, Louis, 3, and Della, 4. Nicholas Platt, a U.S. consulate official met them at the border and took them to an undisclosed hotel.

The consulate had been expecting Adams since the Chinese notified the Hong Kong Red Cross he would cross the border May 9. But Adams told newsmen he had not planned to leave China until this week.

Date Mistake

"I think maybe there was a mistake in the date," he said. The turncoats still in China are Howard Adams, no relation to Clarence, of Corsicana, Tex., and James Veneris of Hawthorne, Calif. One of the former war prisoners who chose to remain with their captors died in China, two left via Europe and 15 others preceded Adams across the Hong Kong border. The last was Morris Wills of Fort Ann, N.Y., who crossed last Oct. 19.

Adams said he did not know whether Howard Adams and Veneris were planning to leave China.

Little Contact

"I have been working at the foreign language press," he said. "They are studying at Peking University, and I've had very little contact with them for many months."

Adams said he and his family would fly to the United States "just as soon as our travel documents are ready and my mother sends us the travel money which she wrote she would send as soon as we reached Hong Kong."

A U.S. consulate spokesman said issuance of travel documents for the family could take from one to three weeks. While Adams talked to Platt, Mrs. Adams, the former Liu Lin-fang, told newsmen in Chinese they had decided to leave China because Adams wanted to see his mother, Mrs. Gladys Peoples of Memphis. "He has not seen his mother since before he went to war 16 years ago," Mrs. Adams said.

Cut by War, Cost of Living

Polls Show LBJ Popularity Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is keenly aware that the high cost of living and the Viet Nam war are cutting into his administration's popularity as measured by public opinion polls. In reaction to the polls and other signs, the administration has made several moves to try to show that the rise in living costs has been much lower than in other industrialized nations and that there are grounds for hope that civil strife in South Viet Nam can be composed and a degree of unity attained.

After his latest survey this week, pollster Louis Harris said that the American public's rating of the way Johnson does his job has fallen to the lowest point of his 2½ years in the White House.

Only 55 per cent now think he is doing an excellent or good job, Harris reported. This is a decline of 7 percentage points from two months ago and 12 points from January.

But Johnson's rating in this poll is still above the low points of the Eisenhower and Kennedy administrations.

And a Gallup Poll released Wednesday night reported that a test for the presidency between Johnson and Republican Richard M. Nixon would be closer now than eight months ago.

The poll said 54 per cent of those queried replied they would like to see Johnson win

if the election was held today, while 36 per cent picked Nixon and 10 per cent were undecided. Last September, a similar poll listed Johnson with 61 per cent, Nixon with 35 per cent and had 4 per cent undecided. No other candidates were listed in these polls.

Another Poll

Another recent Gallup Poll posed the question: Should the United States withdraw its troops if the South Vietnamese begin fighting among themselves in a big way? The polling organization said 54 per cent of Americans would favor withdrawal in that event, and only 28 per cent favored continuing to help South Viet Nam.

Survey Shows Senators Favor Cutting NATO Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is strong sentiment in the Senate for reducing U.S. troop commitments to North Atlantic Treaty Organization nations, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

Forty-four senators said they favored eventual withdrawal of a substantial portion of the six U.S. divisions of 225,000 American fighting men massed along the Iron Curtain.

But of this group, only 15 said they would cut U.S. forces to a token level of one division at this time as suggested recently by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield.

The question asked senators was: "Do you believe Western Europe should take over its own primary defenses with U.S. ground troops reduced to a token level. Why?"

Mansfield Remarks
Mansfield said in an interview May 16 that Western Europe ought to be taking over its own defenses. He added that a single division would serve as well as six as a token of the United States presence on the continent and as a guarantee of American response to any Communist attack on the West.

Fifteen senators disagreed with Mansfield's position, most of them saying the United States must stand by its treaty commitments to NATO in spite of France's forthcoming withdrawal of troops from the Atlantic.

There is recent evidence of Pentagon support for thinning out U.S. units in Europe. Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara said in a speech last week "the American people are not going to shirk their obligations in any part of the world, but they clearly cannot be expected to bear a disproportionate share of the common burden indefinitely."

Among senators who gave full approval to reducing U.S. forces to a token level, many cited Western Europe's failure to live up to its NATO commitments despite economic prosperity. Several cited the drain on U.S. balance of payments.

In this group were Democratic Sens. Joseph S. Clark of Pennsylvania, Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, Ernest Gruening of Alaska, Vance Hartke of Indiana, Thomas J. McIntyre of New Hampshire, Wayne Morse of Oregon, William Proxmire of Wisconsin, Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, George A. Smathers of Florida, John J. Sparkman of Alabama, Stephen M. Young of Ohio, and Mansfield.

Republicans in Favor
Republicans included Sens. George D. Aiken of Vermont, Peter H. Dominick of Colorado, and Hiram L. Fong of Hawaii.

Gruening said Western Europe is "fully able to defend itself" and "it is time we stopped overextending ourselves."

Aiken's comment was: "Western Europe is now strong enough to take care of the major part of its own defenses."

Twenty-nine senators said they think a gradual reduction of American ground forces should be undertaken. Some of them said only a token force should be left in the end, but some were not so sure the move could be carried that far.

Democrats in this group included Sens. Birch Bayh of Indiana and

Gemini Team Prepares for Shot Tuesday

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — With their Atlas target booster rocket cleared for launching, the Gemini 9 astronauts today rehearse for next Tuesday's second attempt at a rendezvous and space walk mission.

Air Force Lt. Col. Thomas P. Stafford and Navy Lt. Cmdr Eugene A. Cernan climb into their spacecraft to repeat a simulated flight exercise they ran two weeks ago before their abortive first launching attempt.

A review board Wednesday reported the trouble was caused by an electrical short in a hydraulic valve system valve.

The Atlas is to hoist the ATDA at 11 a.m. (EDT) Tuesday, with the astronauts to follow at 12:39 p.m. aboard a Titan 2 rocket. Stafford and Cernan will attempt to catch and dock with the ATDA after a four-hour chase.

Soybean Speculation

Investigate Release Of USDA Information

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is investigating a complaint that an unauthorized and premature disclosure of President Johnson's plans to increase soybean acreage this year permitted a speculator to make "a pile of money."

This became known Wednesday after an investigator of the department's Office of Inspector General — an agency set up after the Billie Sol Estes scandals — questioned newsmen regarding their handling of the President's announcement.

Johnson told Congress in a special message Feb. 10 that he had instructed Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to encourage production of soybeans on land formerly planted to surplus grains. The plan was part of the President's food for peace program outlined that day.

Ahead of Release
A spokesman for the inspector general's office, while withholding details of the complaint, said the agency had been informed that a report of the presidential plans had been published well ahead of the 12 noon release time.

Newsmen assigned to the Agriculture Department were asked by the investigator to tell how they handled the story, where and when they received their information and other de-

Foe of Colored Oleo Says Bill Bottled Up in Committee

MADISON (AP) — The chief Senate opponent of an Assembly-approved bill repealing Wisconsin's ban on colored oleomargarine was confident today he could bottle up the proposal in his committee.

Sen. Earl Leverich R-Sparta said he had the votes to assure the measure would be referred to the Agriculture Committee, of which he is chairman. The committee has been the graveyard for many previous repeal attempts.

The Assembly sent the proposal to lift the nation's last ban on yellow oleo to the Senate Wednesday after refusing to reconsider last Thursday's vote for final passage.

Champion of Ban
Leverich 74 has spent much of the 28 years he has been in the Senate opposing repeal of the colored oleo ban.

Assembly opponents of the bill which would levy a seven cents a pound tax on the colored spread used parliamentary maneuvers to delay the measures as long as they could.

Test Saturn on Launch Pad

Space Officials Unhappy Over High Orbit of Explorer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Space Agency was pleased today with the transfer of the first test version of the Saturn 5 man-to-the-moon rocket to the launch pad. But it wasn't too happy with the extremely high orbit achieved by the Explorer 32 satellite.

Explorer 32 was hoisted into orbit Wednesday to probe the earth's upper atmosphere. But the failure of the second stage of the Delta rocket to shut off on time shoved the vehicle into an orbit ranging from 180 to 1,688 miles high. It had been aimed at a path of 170 to 750 miles.

All instruments aboard the satellite were working. But officials said it would not be as effective as intended because of the high orbit.

3.1-Mile Ride
The 365-foot-tall Saturn 5 took a 3.1-mile ride Wednesday from its assembly building to the launch pad. The transporter was a huge vehicle called a Crawler, whose tank-like treads moved over a special rock filled roadway at a maximum speed of one mile an hour.

The transfer mainly was a test of the Crawler's ability to carry the 12-million-pound load. There were several stops along the way for engineering checks. A few minor problems developed, but the rocket finally was deposited on the pad after a nine-hour haul. The Saturn 5 moved Wednesday never will fly.

Reuss Raps Whitefish Bay Poverty Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Anti-poverty school aid to Whitefish Bay was protested Wednesday by a congressman who called the Milwaukee suburb "one of the highest income communities in Wisconsin."

Rep. Henry Reuss (D-Wis.) asked the Wisconsin superintendent of public instruction to revoke the $25,000 federal grant which is administered through the state agency.

Reuss told state superintendent Angus B. Rothwell that "it makes a mockery" of the law to say that Whitefish Bay is a school attendance area "having high concentration of children from low income families."

"The Whitefish Bay school superintendent recently stated that if there were any such children in Whitefish Bay he didn't know where they were," Reuss said.

administration away from the ruling junta. Instead, U.S. officials expressed relief the Da Nang uprising had collapsed without spilling more blood and urged both sides to get on with the war against the Communists and an orderly transfer to civilian rule.

Heated Speeches
Despite the heated speeches, the rebellion in Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon, seemed to be losing steam following a declaration by the military commander in the area, Brig. Gen. Phan Xuan Nguan, that he and his men were behind the government. Some of Nguan's 1st Division troops helped armed Buddhist youths set up roadblocks in Hue last week.

U.S. diplomats said Wednesday night they thought Ky's government seemed in control again. But one American remarked "a lot depends on how the government handles liquidation of the revolt." He said it probably would be a mistake to send troops into Hue to take control of the city, as Ky did in Da Nang.

Sack Building
A U.S. Army major reported he saw Thich Tri Quang, one of the chief leaders of the Buddhist antigovernment movement, telling the demonstrators to stop the destruction.

A mob sacked the building — which also houses the U.S. Public Affairs Office — on Jan. 23, 1965, and burned about half the books of the U.S. library. That demonstration was aimed at ousting the civilian government of Premier Tran Van Huong, who was replaced four days later by Gen. Nguyen Khanh. Now the Buddhist battle cry is for a civilian regime.

Anti-Americanism has become increasingly strident since Ky's troops crushed the Da Nang revolt Monday. The Buddhists apparently had hoped a widespread show of anti-Ky sentiment might swing the Johnson

Earn $50 Million For Storing Farm Commodities

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government report showed today farmers earned upwards of $50 million between last July 1 and March 31 for storing price support commodities on their farms.

The commodities mostly were corn, wheat, sorghum grain and oats. Usually, the Agriculture Department extends latest crop-year price support loans on grains stored under such loans and Kenosha and the abandoned on farms. This helps the government store and manage its supplies in the interest of needs of possible future users and price stability.

Rates allowed farmers are in line with those paid commercial warehouse concerns.

Home Delivery Of Milk Is On Decline

WASHINGTON (AP)—The distribution system for fluid milk is changing rapidly from a home delivery to a carry home system. The Agriculture Department reported today that only 25 to 35 percent of the fluid milk sold today is delivered to homes compared with 85 percent 40 years ago.

"The distribution system for fluid milk, which 40 years ago was based largely on home delivery, has changed to a wide variety of outlets including supermarkets, specialized dairy stores, convenience food stores, vending machines, gasoline stations and drive-in dairies," a reporter said.

ted error in the amendment to help overturn the vote. The amendment's author, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., said he intended to block extension of the minimum wage law to workers in 995,000 retail and service establishments doing less than an annual gross business of $500,000. The bill would have dropped the present $1 million limit to $500,000 next year and to $250,000 in 1969.

Other Employes
In drafting the measure, however, Anderson also knocked out 650,000 employes of other businesses, including mining, manufacturing, processing, communications, finance and insurance, son of Texas and Milton R. Young of North Dakota.

The House voted 157 to 149 to reject an amendment by Rep. David T. Martin, R-Neb., to delete the farm provision. The bill would cover farms that employ 500 man-days of labor in any quarter. The farm worker minimum would start at $1 an hour next Feb. 1, go to $1.15 in 1968 and to $1.30 in 1969. Other newly covered workers would get two additional 15-cent raises, reaching $1.60 in 1971.

Quality Doesn't Assure Success, Committee Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The theory that building a better mouse trap guarantees business success "is for the birds," a business executive told a Senate subcommittee Wednesday. Jeno F. Pauluzzi, president of the Chun King Corp., of Duluth, Minn., said that, even with a good product, "you'd better have the money to get your story to the consumer."

He testified before the Anti-trust and Monopoly Subcommittee in trying to purchase time. On Tuesday, which is looking into the question of whether television networks favor their biggest customers in selling commercial time.

Pauluzzi told of problems he encountered in the past decade since then.

Typical comment:
Kuchel: "As an American, I believe in the theory of mutual security among free peoples. An Atlantic military alliance must remain as a deterrent to aggression. War anywhere on this globe affects the rest of the world."

Harris: "At a time when the Atlantic alliance is in disarray, I think it is rather unfortunate we should even be discussing the reduction of the United States ground troops there."

Wisconsin's Proxmire support: "ed NATO troops reduction by saying: 'The main advantage in having American troops in Europe is to symbolize defense of Western Europe and one division would have the same effect as five or six.'

Some typical comment:
Dirksen: "European countries ought not to depend on us entirely for troop support and we ought to cut down the number of our own as much as reasonably possible."

Kennedy: "I would be in favor of reducing our forces to a token level as a long term objective, after consultation and agreement with our allies. As of the moment, I would not be in favor of it."

Eight Democrats and seven Republicans said they are against paring down American forces to a token level. Several of them said any move of this nature would be likely to torpedo NATO.

Democrats in this category included Sens. Howard W. Cannon of Nevada, Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, Frank J. Lausche of Ohio, Lee Metcalf of Montana, Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico, A.S. (Mike) Monroney of Oklahoma, A. Willis Robertson of Virginia and Har-

Depositions Taken in Dodd Suit

WASHINGTON (AP)—The taking of pretrial depositions begins today in the $5 million libel suit brought by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd against columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson.

In the suit, the Connecticut Democrat accuses the columnists of falsely picturing him as unfit to be a senator, as an agent of foreign interests, as interfering with the award of government contracts in return for bribes, and as unlawfully diverting campaign funds for his own use.

First on the list of witnesses to be questioned was James P. Boyd Jr., a former aid to Dodd. The senator's lawyers say there was a conspiracy under which former Dodd employes removed documents from the senator's files and made them available to the columnists. The pretrial statement taking would have the same effect as five or six weeks.

Critics of the proposed salary policy said the Legislature should not give up its authority to set the specific pay for department heads.

Sen. Ernest Keppler R-Sheboygan argued that unsatisfied state workers could seek higher paying jobs elsewhere. "They're not the only pebbles on the beach," Keppler said.

Keppler lost the argument as the Senate passed the measure 18-13 and sent it to the Assembly.

AIW Local to Vote Friday on Pact Offering Wage Increase

CLINTONVILLE — FWD machine shops and assembly Corp. officials Wednesday presented a new labor contract proposal to members of Local 815, Allied Industrial Workers (AFL-CIO) in a letter to Percy Mitchell, union president. The letter, which will be given to union members, follows rejection of two earlier contract proposals.

The company proposal outlined a nine-step extension of the present labor agreement between the Clintonville firm and union members. Included are: revision of the hourly classification rate schedule, increase in monthly retirement plan benefits, hourly pay increases, and a review of labor grades.

The proposed extension contract, Robert Stichman and Thomas Werner, said. The negotiations followed a four-day wildcat strike at the plant beginning April 26.

State Okays 15-District Vocational School Plan

Board Fails to Establish Areas; Rejects Proposal for Including Twin Cities in Appleton Boundary

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Creation of a 15-district area vocational school plan was approved Tuesday by the State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education. Despite the problem of trying to follow county lines, we still definitely specify what geographic areas would be included in the districts.

A plan, which would have included Neenah and Menasha, along with portions of Brown, Calumet, Waupaca, Waushara and Winnebago counties, in the Appleton district, was rejected. However, one high-ranking state official cautioned that the board's action "should not be misunderstood. Neenah and Menasha have not been excluded from the Appleton district and I doubt that they will be."

The recommendation on what geographic areas should make up the vocational school districts was made by an ad hoc area development advisory committee which includes Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly, members of the state board's Appleton, Hortonville, Shiocton staff, the State Department of Resource Development, the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHHE) and the State Department of Administration.

Advisory Capacity When the committee made its proposal to the state board, it fulfilled its purpose; however, it still will continue to serve in an advisory capacity to the State Vocational School Board and the CCHHE.

The next step in deciding what areas will fall into what districts will be a joint meeting of the state board and the CCHHE. They will make recommendations on the districts' makeup. The meeting will be followed by a series of hearings which will be held in the major cities of each of the 15 districts, including Appleton and Oshkosh. Representatives of municipalities will have the opportunity to discuss the proposal and offer their own views. The hearings, which are expected to last until the end of this year are expected to result in a final recommendation sometime early next year.

The proposal for the Appleton district had included all of the Fox Cities and other areas of Winnebago, Waupaca, Waushara, Calumet and Brown counties.

Specifically, the district included Appleton, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Kimberly, Combined Locks and everything except the Seymour-Oneida area in Outagamie County; Neenah, Menasha, the towns of Neenah, Menasha, Vinland, Clayton and the other area in Winnebago County north of lakes Poygan and Winneconne; Chilton and the towns of Harrison, Stockton, Charlestown, Brillion, Chilton and Woodville in Calumet County; Wrightstown and the Town of Holland in Brown County; plus the northeastern area of Waushara County.

"Purely Provisional" Describing the action taken by the state vocational school board, Director Clarence Greiber said "the areas which were designated were purely provisional for the purpose of giving direction to the board. What of areas will be in what districts have not definitely been designated and this probably will not be done until a later date."

The problem being faced by the state officials is whether county lines should be maintained when the area vocational school districts are finally set up. Members of the board feel there will be difficulties in establishing an area governing agency if county lines are broken.

After rejecting the recommendations of the ad hoc advisory committee, the state board passed a resolution which recommended the creation of a 15-district plan "which would base the districts on county lines, except where major municipalities are in two counties and overlap district lines."

Explains Revision Asked to explain what the resolution means when it refers to overlapping district lines, Fred Hiestand, a member of the advisory committee representing the State Department of Administration, said, "The state board revised what we had originally proposed. The committee set up the districts on the basis of town and county lines so that we could equalize distances for traveling. But the state board disagreed, and now its on a county basis."

"As of right now," he said, "the whole thing is up in the air, but hopefully this will be resolved at the next (joint) meeting of the vocational school board and the Coordinating Committee for Higher Education (CCHHE)."

Hiestand stressed that "there should be no misunderstanding of what this means. Neenah and district area vocational school plan was approved Tuesday by the State Board of Vocational, Technical and Adult Education. Despite the problem of trying to follow county lines, we still definitely specify what geographic areas would be included in the districts."

Oshkosh Pressures It is generally known that Oshkosh interests have been pressing the issue that only county lines be followed in setting up the area vocational school districts. The Oshkosh group wants Neenah and Menasha, as well as the towns of Neenah, Menasha, Clayton and Vinland to be included in its district.

Commenting on the state board's action Tuesday, Carl Bertram, director of the Appleton Vocational School, said: "We already have resolutions in the hands of the state board from the school districts of committee which includes Neenah, Menasha, Kimberly, members of the state board's Appleton, Hortonville, Shiocton staff, the State Department of Resource Development, the Co-

Large Wins Caucus Fight

Senate to Debate Bill Affecting UW Shorewood Site

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Sen. Gerald Lorge, R-Bear Creek, has won the latest battle to bring a bill affecting the Shorewood site of the branch campus of the University of Wisconsin onto the floor of the Legislature.

Lorge Wednesday prevailed upon his Republican caucus colleagues to again place a bill affecting the State Building Commission priority ranking system on the "must" list of bills to be considered by the Senate in the May session. Tuesday Sen. Robert Warren R-Green Bay, blocked inclusion of the bill on such a list, but this morning Lorge was successful.

Priority Changes The move means that the bill will apparently be considered in a vote on the floor of the Senate before the Legislature adjourns or recesses. The Lorge bill would require legislative approval for changes in priority lists of the state Building Commission.

Opponents of the Shorewood site on Green Bay's northeast side had suggested that the bill could be used to block possible transfer of funds from priority items on State Building Commission lists to the construction

But Opposition Develops

Bill Giving Waupaca Second Judge Passes, but Hits Snag

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — A bill creating an additional county judgeship in Waupaca County was passed Wednesday by the State Assembly, but was delayed before it could be forwarded to the Senate for action.

The bill, written by Assemblyman G. K. Anderson of Waupaca, would authorize an election for an additional County Court judge in the 1967 spring election.

The bill passed on a 53 to 42 vote, but its transmission to the State Senate was delayed when there was an objection to a request for unanimous consent.

Day to Charge Rates The objection will allow opponents of the measure an additional day to change votes of bridge, Charlestown, Brillion, Chilton and Woodville in Calumet County; Wrightstown and the Town of Holland in Brown County; plus the northeastern area of Waushara County.

The bill was supported by Anderson, a Republican, who said that the work load of the single Waupaca County judge was causing delays in the judicial process in his county.

By creating the additional post, Anderson added, recent judicial trends allowing all violators to be tried in a court of record if possible would be followed.

Cost of the measure would be about $38,000, he said, including beginning at the east end of the judge's salary and the Man Street. A program at the Civic Park will follow.

The day's activities are sponsored by the Kupsh-Brockman Auxiliary. Arthur Depies is Auxiliary president, Mrs. Lyle Pasewald and her daughter, Susan, will place the memorial wreaths.

The Gettysburg address will be recited by state forensic medalist, Sandra Roehrig. Lynn Suttner will recite the poem, "Flanders Field." Taps will be sounded by Gary Luedeke with the echo played by Tom Piepenberg.

Pupils from St. Peter Lutheran School, the Boy Scouts and the Girls Scouts also will participate. The program will be under the supervision of Inard Kuehne, post commander.

Members of the Auxiliary will place flags on all veterans' graves in area cemeteries.

If it rains, the program will be in the high school.

Crucial Highway Weekend Predicted

The most crucial period on Wisconsin roads this year begins Friday afternoon and will continue through late Monday.

Local and state law enforcement agencies and the Wisconsin National Guard are bracing for the Memorial Day traffic push which, partly because of favorable five-day weather forecasts in this region, promises to be of major proportion.

Sgt. Donald Jones of the state patrol said the "critical period" will start about 2 p.m. Friday.

Heavy traffic should start slackening off about 10 p.m. Friday, then hold quite steady over the weekend, according to Jones.

Emergency Condition

In accordance with an emergency condition on Wisconsin roads, proclaimed for the weekend by Gov. Warren P. Knowles, National Guardsmen will aid state police in patrol efforts on the main highways.

Eight guardsmen from the Appleton unit will help patrol from the Butte des Morts bridge north to Appleton on U. S. 41. Guardsmen have aided state police in past years, by using their own vehicles and by riding in patrol cars.

Funnel Traffic

State patrolmen and guardsmen will "keep a good eye" on attempted reportedly will be made through Oshkosh instead of to "funnel" traffic into a single over the bridge have not proven successful, patrol officials said.

Another critical traffic area will be U. S. 45 from U. S. 41 to New London and north.

Jones said today that all available state patrolmen in this district will be working over the long weekend, and stated that work shifts have been arranged to overlap during the peak traffic periods.

Monday promises to be nearly as busy a time as Friday on area highways, as travelers start home. The "emergency" proclaimed by Gov. Knowles continues to midnight Monday.

Jones predicted the peak period Monday will be 2 to 10 p.m.

Sgt. Lowell Veitch, acting head of the Outagamie County traffic patrol, said he will have a full complement of men on the roads over the long weekend.

His areas of prime concern include U.S. Highways 10 and 45 and State Highways 47, 76 and 54. A detour on State 47 near Black Creek could cause some problems, it was learned.

Outagamie County Sheriff Calvin Spive had this advice for weekend motorists:

New London United Fund Head Named

NEW LONDON — Lester Werner, 1316 Smith St., has been named general chairman for the 1966-67 United Fund drive here.

The United Fund drive will be conducted in early October.

Other chairmen named previously were M. A. Brunner, budget and allocations; Phyllis Werner, publicity; Duane Russ, business and professional; Roger Metz, payroll deduction; Mel Jungerberg, general drive chairman; Tom Mathewson, house-to-house, and Don Andersen, advance donations.

A budget and allocations meeting is scheduled for Sept. 13 to determine the goal for the upcoming fund drive.

MANAWA — The Manawa Lions Club voted to build public restroom facilities at the rodeo arena, when it met Monday evening. Work on the building is expected to start soon and be completed in time for the annual Midwestern championship rodeo July 2, 3 and 4.

The building will be of cement block construction. A separate sewer system will be installed for the restrooms. The 18 by 24 foot building and installation of utilities will cost approximately $3,500 to $4,000.

The Lions also voted to donate $500 toward the purchase of an award Tuesday for five consecutive years of membership gains.

Recruiter awards for signing public library, is under way. A. 10 new members were made to Sturm and Sons Inc. purchased Clifford Huss, Reinhold Gagnow, the building early this year and, upon completion of remodeling, will turn it over to the city.

The Governor's Plans for Tax Surplus

Gov. Warren Knowles has asked the Legislature to regard $11.4 million of the state's current estimated surplus of $28.7 million as a "minimum cushion" for the start of operations for the 1967-69 biennium. This makes good sense and should be accepted by the Wisconsin taxpayer regardless of what plans he has for the November state elections.

During the opening months of the past three Legislative sessions, the news has had a familiar ring. Budgets are presented which are more than the state's estimated tax revenues. There is talk of financial crisis, payless state pay days, and reductions in state services including higher education. Then, there has been a compromise on a plan to increase tax revenues.

While the nation's economy is rolling along at a rate which has brought the state surplus, there is no proof that the rate will be the fact for the 1967-69 biennium. Nor does the state surplus or the $11.4 million which the governor wants to set aside mean that no tax increases will be needed next year. But the $11.4 million will help meet the bill.

From the standpoint of politicians who will be seeking election this autumn, there are two obvious uses for the surplus. One, spend it for programs to be explained as accomplishments to the voters this fall. Two, devise some sort of immediate tax reduction plan to use up the surplus which also can be advertised to the voters this fall.

The recommendations of the governor, in fact, will provide tax relief to the property taxpayer in two areas, which would extend into the next biennium. State aids to local school districts would be increased by $11.2 million for the 1966 state fiscal year, and $13.3 million could be saved state and local budgets through passage of a measure before the Legislature to take advantage of new federal formulas for government shares for Social Security and Medicare payments to those on public assistance programs.

While there will be some grumbling about the way $4.7 million should be used for faculty and state employee pay raises now that a surplus has been verified, Gov. Knowles made a good case for the faculty raises through a comparison with pay scales of other Big Ten schools and of state colleges in neighboring states. There can be no quarrel with Knowles' request to use other chunks of the surplus to start the anti-pollution commission and to finance the leasing plan for the Wolf River shores in Menominee County.

Carrying any surplus to the next biennium will be measured from the viewpoint of the divided statehouse control and the record the parties want to present for the election. But this cannot be allowed to become the overriding factor. One of the parties will have to write the 1967-69 budget.

The Street Resurfacing Program

With the arrival of summer comes the start of Appleton's citywide street resurfacing program which has been in the talking stage for about two years and is now about to become a reality.

Preparing the 1966 work schedule represented considerable planning on the part of the city engineering division and the Common Council exercised good judgment in going along with its recommendations to get work started by July 1.

The program calls for 15 miles of streets to be resurfaced this year, and then to follow through on an annual basis in renovating and maintaining the remainder of the city's 200 miles of thoroughfares.

Millions of dollars worth of new sewers were laid in the city over the past four years, and now the time has come to make much-needed improvements to street surfaces. The most heavily traveled and rundown streets will be the first to get resurfaced.

Appleton motorists and others from throughout the region coming here to work and shop have been most patient in putting up with the poor condition of many streets. But the most important thing now is that their patience will be rewarded and Appleton is going to get its streets back in good condition.

This, along with summer, will be most welcome.

Who Can Drink at Noon?

The Long Island Railroad long has been the butt of comedians' jokes and the brief "whisky rebellion" of train crews which left commuters stranded will add to the file. But the local union of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen may have opened up a whole new field for labor-management relations.

Three trainmen were suspended for two weeks for drinking beer with their pizza lunch. But Harold Pryor, head of the local, turned up at a luncheon put on by the railroad where noon-time cocktails were being served to explain that if management has "the right to take my men out of service for alleged drinking, those men at the cocktail party should have taken themselves out of service."

Nonsense, said the railroad, the executives at the luncheon need not be concerned with safety regulations about operating trains after drinking at noon. All of this raises a set of questions for future labor contracts.

At what level of management is it permissible to drink at noon? Should there be compensation for those whose jobs make it impossible to drink at noon? And what about some of these sales and management jobs for which drinking at noon seems to be required? Shouldn't there be some sort of compensation for wear and tear in these instances?

Mr. Pryor has opened a Pandora's box.

How Not to Make Friends

A couple of Englishmen who prefer to remain anonymous have published a book that is sure to be a best seller and quite likely to start hundreds of international incidents. Its title is The Insult Dictionary — How To Be Abusive in Five Languages.

The book is not limited merely to the terms in various languages for fools. Instead it has investigated the really devastating way of making someone feel like two cents—or simply furious. The tourist on a train in Italy is told the Italian phrase for saying to his fellow passenger, "you may be fat enough to fill two seats, but you have only paid for one. Move over!" In a restaurant in Germany, he knows how to tell the waiter bitingly, "When I want a cold meal, I'll ask for one!" And when he pays his hotel bill in a French pension, he can say "congratulations. Your hotel has the biggest fleas in Europe." He can shout "putrefacto!" at a play or floor show, and tell a servant in any country that he is a "repulsive, evil smelling layabout."

The authors have taken care not to have their intentions misinterpreted since the United States Supreme Court has ruled in one case that "intent" may be a factor in whether something is obscene or not. They warn about not calling police in any country anything except the most endearing names and anyway they have flatly said in the book that they "cannot accept responsibility for any consequences that may flow from the use of the terms in the book."

Americans are always being told that they are insulting tourists and disliked in foreign countries except of course for their dollars. With this book in hand instead of the usual travel guide, they can be assured that they will be hated.

'Let Freedom Ring' Sponsor Denies John Birch Connection

Editor, Post-Crescent:

After carefully reading the lengthy news story regarding the Post-Crescent's May 22 story entitled "Appleton Housetrailer Phone Transmitting Birch Message" I deduced the article was about me since it contained a large picture of my home. I was confused at first because the person mentioned had the same first name and middle initial as I. If the story was, indeed, about me (I said to myself) my name has been misspelled ten (10) times. My suspicions were confirmed when I read the front page report concerning Rep. John Rices message on "Let Freedom Ring". I finally realized it was yours truly because my name was spelled correctly.

Seriously, your reporter did a fine job fulfilling his duty to your "middle-of-the-road" publication. Prior to this free advertising we had been swamped with calls! These people were not "curiosity seekers," as you say, but people desiring the truth. This week I am ordering another transmitter to better service callers. If necessary I will put on an addition to my trailer-home to accommodate the physical room necessary to store the transmitters. Thank you and Rep. Rices.

Because the Fourth Estate has always been known for ethics and truth, I know there was no premeditated malicious intent for some of the "minor" errors contained in both stories. But, to set the record straight, I am demanding equal space so that retractions can be printed. This reply must of necessity be broken down into two parts: one dealing with the Post-Crescent's "mistakes" and one with Rep. Rices' "errors".

Part I. Your headline reads in part: "Transmitting Birch Message" The head is utterly false as "Let Freedom Ring" has no connections whatsoever with the John Birch Society. At least Rep. Rices said it was only "Birch Inspired". Simply because many of the people offering this truthful message to telephone users around the United States belong to the John Birch Society does not mean it is sponsored by the wonderful Birch Society. I also try to spread the message of Christ and am a Lutheran. Does that mean the Lutheran Church is sponsoring "Let Freedom Ring"?

Taking statements out of text is an art expertly developed by our "liberal" friends to silence those working for God and Country (the liberals are also for "freedom of speech" for the Communist speakers and the Communist-front speakers to speak at Madison and other universities... but not for conservatives). We conservatives very often do not have to say anything and still be misquoted... For instance in column five under sub-head "attacks from radical" you say... "Told his project and recorded message accusing, etc..." Steinhart

(please add the "d") said I don't want to even discuss it. We are used to these kind ('s') of attacks from radicals." The name Rices was not mentioned during the telephone interview... nor was this question asked of me. However, the ending of the statement was

We also wish to thank all the people responsible for the appeal made and say our burden has been lightened considerably by your generosity and many prayers. Windmills Help Fat Cattle Save Steps

BROKEN ARROW, Okla. (AP)—Modern steel windmills, located to save steps for range cattle play a part in producing beefier steaks for U.S. households.

Placed so no thirsty steer will have to walk more than a mile to water, thousands of windmills are at work on the ranches of Texas, Oklahoma, Nebraska and other large ranching states, according to W. C. Dean, vice president of Aermotor Division of Brad Aermotor Corporation.

The company, which produces more than 80 per cent of all U.S. made windmills, estimates that more than 100,000 windmills are in service in Texas alone cutting cattle weight losses.

true, even though I did not say it.

No, I am not an out-of-state "radical" element as you intimate. I moved to Appleton a little over one year ago upon honorable discharge from the United States Air Force. After 9 years and 2 months service. The last five years being in the Strategic Air Command. I love my wife and 2 children very much as I do my Country. (I'm not against Motherhood)

Your reporter tried to discredit last week's message by stating "Certain newspaper stories... without attribution are quoted." (column five second paragraph from bottom) Evidentially your reporter "misunderstood" the taped message... we quoted directly from the Weekly magazine publication Review of the News... The finest weekly news magazine in America. Your reporter tried to intimate that we do not document the material sent out. We do not quote all documentation because of time limitations. However, all listeners may obtain same by writing me. In other words, we do not make "allegations," as you put it.

The telephone company spokesman said that "company policy now requires the name and address of the person sponsoring the message must be included at the end" (more on the "policy" in part II) I certainly believe that we need more Dial-A-Saint and Dial-A-Devotion Messages on the telephone message service. However, if your readers will call these numbers they will find that no individual person is named as sponsor... This does not mean they are subversive, but shows that the FCC ruling was put in to stop this little LFR voice from being heard by trying to frighten people from putting it on.

Thank you for your interest and help in bringing the truth to this area.

Legislative Spending Pointing Way Toward $1.1 Billion Budget

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — A favorite and repetitious proposal of the academic critic of the state government is the annual legislative session to replace the biennial session that is now provided in the constitutional law of the state.

The typical response of the conservative, whenever the plan is seriously broached in the public forum, is the complaint that the Legislature that meets more frequently is also certain to spend more money and bring about a rise in the cost of government that is unnecessary, or at any rate, that does not come as rapidly if the Legislature meets at two-year intervals to authorize appropriations.

Wyngaard

There is something to be said for both viewpoints. The naked eye can quickly apprehend that the biennial session idea has been scuttled, for all practical purposes, without benefit of a constitutional amendment. Legislators for the last decade have stretched their deliberations in segments around the biennial calendar, so that there are yearly sessions in effect. Technically the budget remains a biennial document. But in practice that is no longer true either, as the present recessed session is proving again as it eagerly supplements the appropriations made last year that were nominally intended to serve for the biennium.

Normal checks and counterpressures are not operative. Hearings are held on short notice, or omitted altogether. Some weeks ago this reporter ventured the guess, in connection with the discussions of the size of the current state budget, that the 1967-69 total of state appropriations would exceed a billion dollars, without regard to the identity of the political party chosen to rule the executive office or the legislative chambers in the fall elections.

That calculation increasingly appears conservative. The total of authorized appropriations for the current biennium will approach $900 million in the end. All of the extra-budgetary authorizations will be built-in factors pushing up the starting figures when the next Legislature meets in seven months. The typical biennial increase lately has been 20 to 25 per cent. Assuming that such a ratio can be maintained, which is not certain, the next budget can easily reach $1.1 billion. Because tax yields won't approach that precipitate rise, the story of fiscal crisis a year hence can be predicted as the big statehouse political news of the period with certainty.

THE PROOFS

Annual legislative term advocates claim that lawmaking can be more immediately responsive through such a rule, that it is virtually impossible to handle fiscal problems precisely when 30 months intervene between the calculations and the expenditure experience, as one example.

The argument is persuasive, but not quite as convincing as the assertion of the fiscal conservative that a Legislature, which increases its exposure to pressures is almost certain to increase its expenditure.

Strictly Personal

Woman's Care of Hair Has Special Meaning

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Thoughts at Large: Hair, to women, must have some deeply symbolic or sexual meaning far beyond the mere physical appearance, for nothing else explains the vast amount of time, money and energy devoted to care of the hair; nor is this merely a modern obsession — in Biblical times, the Book of Timothy warns women against excess in attention to the dressing of the hair.

Harris

Some wine turns sour with age; so it is with wisdom — and when an elder takes it upon himself to offer advice to a young man, he should first make sure that it is the kind of wisdom that time has improved and not turned sour.

A good teacher will not only make his pupils aware of the half-truths and beguiling fallacies dangled before them by propagandists, but he will go further and guard the pupils against his own, the teacher's, prejudices and preconceptions (This is perhaps the hardest task in teaching a "live" subject.)

If Clemenceau's famous remark that "War is too important a matter to be left to the generals" is true, is it not equally true that peace is too ture commitments also. The present deliberations in Madison afford a thoroughly relevant example.

There are some professional grumblers who pretend to worry about the cost of legislative clerks and other functionaries, legislative expenses accounts and such disbursements, when there is a special session such as that now underway. These are negligible details.

The real price of the spring session of the Legislature this year will be measured in the multimillion dollars of additional expenditures that the Legislature cannot resist, since the discovery of the unexpected state treasury surplus. These men are now approving appropriation requests that would not have had a shadow of a chance earlier during this term and that could not have been pushed had the Legislature adjourned late last summer as the constitution presumably intended. Some of the big spending bills are breezing through the legislative Finance Committee as easily as the hotel guest hands out tips to a bell hop.

NEXT TIME

important a matter to be left to the diplomats?

Speaking of national conflict, few men in public life have the candor of Count Cavour, when he exclaimed: "What scoundrels we would be if we did for ourselves what we stand ready to do for Italy!"

The characters of a man consists of three elements: what he believes, what he does, and how he reconciles what he does with what he believes — and it is in the last operation that the ultimate assessment of character must be made.

People are friendlier in the country, but freer in the city; and the price one pays for having a neighbor who will take a kindly interest in you when you need him, is having a neighbor who will take an officious interest in you when you don't want him to.

The meanly ambitious man can be distinguished from the decently ambitious man by the fact that the former has no moderation of posture — he is either groveling before his superiors or strutting before his subordinates, but is incapable of standing easily erect for any sustained period.

What the behaviorists fail to understand in all their experiments with sexual practices was tersely expressed by Rose n stock-Huessy many years ago: "Sexuality throws no light upon love, but only through love can we learn to understand sexuality."
